British Expel 30 Cypriots For Silence

Punishment Is Meted Out For Concealing 'Murder Zone' Facts

NICOSIA, Cyprus March 16 (AP)—Britain expelled 30 householders and shopkeepers from a terrorist "murder zone" in downtown Nicosia today.

Field Marshal Sir John Harding, the governor, issued the order as collective punishment for a bloody challenge to British rule by pro-Greek gunmen.

Six British soldiers and a police sergeant have been killed within the zone, all by bullets in the back, since last October. Throughout the colony, 18 British service men have died.

The banishment order came after Martin Clements, British commissioner for Nicosia, summoned 75 residents to an outdoor inquiry court in a search for information on the killings.

Instructed To Leave

Ten families were instructed to leave and shutters went down on 20 shops. All their quarters overlooked places where shootings have occurred. The expelled were told to find their own lodgings elsewhere until the area is made safe. A parachute trooper explained it was thought these persons could have seen the shootings, but decided not to help authorities solve them.

The "murder zone" is a thickly populated, rectangular piece of land covering about 80,000 square yards in the heart of the island's capital. The last victim there of the rebel, Cypriot movement was a British police sergeant, shot in the back Wednesday.

Parachute troopers had found five bombs in a locked carpenter's shop there and a sack full of gunpowder in the tiny Maikhairos church. A British officer said the priest in charge of the church had been arrested. Search of the area also uncovered a large number of pamphlets urging further violence.

Expulsion of the group from homes and shops is part of a new campaign by the British authorities.

Asked To Inform

Householders in the area had been asked to inform. A reward of 5,000 pounds—$14,000—was offered. But when the replies came in—in sealed envelopes provided by the authorities—not a single clue was provided that could lead to an arrest.

Elsewhere, martial law was clamped on Limassol, the island's biggest port of entry. Under a new curfew, everyone was ordered off the streets until further notice.

Authorities planned a big sweep for the rebel ringleaders they believed had filtered into the town's 20,000 population.

Defiant Cypriots continued their five-day old general strike in protest against the arrest and deportation of Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Orthodox leader of the island's union-with-Greece movement. They ignored an appeal by the Communist-dominated federation of labor to return to work.

Egypt Dam Plans Still Undecided

Britain, U. S. Haven't Reached Agreement With Premier Nasser

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The State Department disclosed today the United States and Britain have not yet nailed down an agreement with Egypt to build the billion-dollar Aswan Dam with free world financing.

This was contrary to the wide-spread impression created Feb. 8 when Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and World Bank President Eugene Black announced "substantial agreement."

The announcement was hailed at the time as a Western victory over the Russians who had offered to help finance the irrigation-power structure on the Upper Nile.

But State Department press officer Lincoln White, while denying any switch of signal by Egypt, told a news conference:

Have Made Offer

"We have made an offer and the offer stands. We and the British and the Egyptians are talking about this in a normal manner."

The fact that negotiations still were being held on the dam added fresh difficulties to the already bulging bag of Middle East problems before American officials.

George V. Allen, assistant secretary of state, returned to the department today after a two-week absence on a trip to Pakistan with Secretary Dulles. They attended the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting. Dulles is due back Wednesday.

Herbert Hoover Jr., acting secretary in Dulles' absence, talked over Middle East problems today with President Eisenhower after speaking nearly an hour with Greek Ambassador George V. Melas. Melas declined to go into details but told reporters he had expressed hope for U.S. "friendly action" to help settle the bitter Greek-British dispute over the Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

Eisenhower and other officials insist that the United States is not taking sides in this quarrel between what the President called "two of our very best friends."

Study Cyprus Issue

The State Department is studying the Cyprus issue and, as White told newsmen earlier this week, expects to come up with "certain recommendations." It was not clear whether Melas transmitted to Hoover an official call for direct U.S. intervention, as suggested last week by Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis in talking with reporters at Athens.

This study is only one of several under way on the Middle East. Israel's request for 63 million dollars in U.S. arms, as a counter to Egypt's purchase of 85 million dollars in Soviet arms, is under active consideration again. In New York, United Nations delegations of the United States, Britain and France are examining possible ways of calling the U.N. Security Council into extra session for what Eisenhower has labeled "urgent and early" action.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) asked that this be doubled to half a billion dollars to give Secretary of Agriculture Benson wide authority to help livestock producers.

Ellender accepted the quarter-billion boost without debate, saying: "I'll take it to conference."

That means the later Senate-House compromise session would consider a 500-million-dollar item instead of 250 millions. No senator objected.

Final Farm Bill Action Delayed Until Next Week

By WILMOT HERCHER

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The Senate approved an additional 250 million dollars for a pork purchase program tonight and then decided to postpone final action on its election-year farm bill until next week.

After a session lasting more than nine hours, the Senate recessed at 7:05 p.m.

It agreed to go back to work on the huge and complicated farm bill at 11 a.m. Monday. The legislation is designed to add between three and five billion dollars to farmers' incomes this year.

Some 60 amendments remained to be acted on when Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) interrupted the debate and proposed the weekend recess. The bill couldn't be passed tonight even "if we stayed to midnight," Johnson said.

Minority Leader Knowland (R-Calif.) supported him in the move. Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Agriculture Committee and floor manager of the bill, tried to get an assurance from Johnson that the Senate would be kept in session Monday until the bill was passed, but the Democratic leader said he did not want to accept responsibility for keeping the Senate at work all night.

With the planting season not far away, President Eisenhower and many Senate leaders are pressing for speedy action on the farm bill. The legislation will figure prominently in the struggle by both parties for the farm vote next fall.

There was no opposition to the extra 250 million for the pork buying program, and it took the Senate less than two minutes to write the change into the omnibus bill.

The Agriculture Committee had inserted 250 million dollars in the bill for price support operations for pork, beef and other perishables.

Springtime Is Near?

You would never know that Spring is just four days away by visiting the eastern coast where one of the heaviest snowfalls of the winter season struck. ## Ike's Segregation Stand Is Criticized

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D-NY) suggested today that President Eisenhower is a "neutralist" standing above the segregation battle. This brought a retort of "unwarranted and unfounded" from Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.).

In a brief Senate flurry, Case contended Lehman was injecting politics into the segregation question. This was countered by a claim from Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) that it was Vice President Nixon "who put politics into this vital issue."

The exchange began when Lehman called upon Eisenhower to "assume the responsibility" for enforcing the Supreme Court order outlawing racial segregation in the public schools.

"I cannot stand above the battle, like President Eisenhower, and say with fine impartiality that both sides must show restraint," Lehman declared. He quoted Eisenhower as having warned against "the extremists" on both sides, and asked if the President pictured himself as a "mediator" or a "neutralist."

Case replied: "Any suggestion that the President is a neutralist or is standing above this quarrel is unwarranted and unfounded."

"And I hope that there will be, from no side, even an implied injection of this question into politics, because such a tone, I regret to say, did arise in the remarks of my colleague from New York."

Case said the President agrees the Supreme Court decision "is based upon right and conscience." He added that the only question is as to the speed with which it can be put into effect.

Neuberger then arose to say that it was Nixon who brought the issue into politics. Neuberger quoted Nixon as having said, in a New York speech, that "a Republican chief justice," Earl Warren, delivered the Supreme Court's unanimous verdict against school segregation.

Case said he regarded that remark by Nixon as "unfortunate," and said he believes Nixon "feels the same way."

Other senators, including Southern Democrats, who have joined in a "manifesto" calling for a reversal of the Supreme Court ruling, remained silent when Lehman said the manifesto "would be absurd, if it were not so deadly serious and highly dangerous."

While he said "the statement of principles" in which 101 Southern senators and representatives advocated "lawful" resistance to the decree was not inflammatory in tone, "its effect was to support the doctrine of nullification." This doctrine, he said, has been "enunciated in one form or another" by the legislatures of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia.

Late Winter Blizzard Lashes Northeast Coast

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—A late winter blizzard moved in on gale winds today to lash the storm-weary Northeast. Transportation on land, sea and in the air was snarled.

Two deaths were attributed to the storm. A New Haven, Conn., man and his wife were killed when their car skidded off the slushy New Jersey Turnpike and rolled over several times.

Six inches to a foot of snow were in store for some areas before rising temperatures were to bring rain.

In New York Harbor, departure of the big French liner Ile de France—with Prince Rainier of Monaco aboard—was delayed three hours and 13 minutes. The slushy snow fouled the ship's radar.

Off Long Island's eastern tip, a gasoline-laden tanker, Sylvia, sent out an SOS. Wallowing in a gale, she was in danger of being beached. Ten-foot seas were battering the 174-foot ship. She had 13 persons aboard.

Highways were dangerously icy or slushy from Pennsylvania to Massachusetts. President Eisenhower, however, braved rain and sleet to drive from Washington for a weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Massachusetts state police alerted motorists on all highways there to "extremely hazardous" conditions. Boston felt the force of winds of 24 to 35 miles an hour.

Limited visibility at Idlewild Airport in New York caused delays of up to an hour in arrivals and departures. LaGuardia Airport canceled 80 flights.

New York City got two inches of snow in the storm's first few hours. The weatherman said the big town escaped what might have been a paralyzing snowstorm only because the snow was wet and much of it did not stick.

Rebel Forces Ambushed As 107 Are Slain

Paratroops, Armored Units Strike After Several Fire Raids

ALGIERS, Algeria, March 16 (AP)—French forces ambushed a big rebel detachment in eastern Algeria today and killed 107 in a running battle that went on into the night.

Parachute troops and mechanized units joined forces to clamp a steel pincers on the band in the region of Lafayette, a village of 2,500 about 150 miles east of this capital city. Other rebels had just struck Algiers in a series of fire raids.

Spotter planes directed the French pursuit in the Lafayette operation, carried out across a land of grain fields, cork-oak forests and olive groves. The French admitted only one French death and said they expected the rebel casualty toll to soar.

German Rearm Plans Approved By Bundesrat

BERLIN, March 16 (AP)—The final legal green light flashed here today on West-Germany's road to rearmament within NATO.

The West German Bundesrat (upper house)—sitting for the first time in the Allied sector of this divided city 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain—unanimously approved measures authorizing the buildup of federal armed forces that are to total 500,000 men by 1960.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Bonn government sponsored these bills to implement a pledge to his Western partners to rearm within the 15-Nation North Atlantic Alliance against the threat of Communist aggression.

The bills include a "soldier's law" under which 150,000 volunteers will be recruited to form the professional cadre. Civilian control is clamped over the armed forces by 14 constitutional amendments. All were approved overwhelmingly by the lower house in Bonn March 6.

The measures now go to President Theodor Heuss for his signature.

The Bundesrat, which ordinarily meets in Bonn, journeyed to Berlin for its historic action to rearm Germany. East Germany's 18 million people they are not forgotten by the West and to symbolize hopes Berlin will again become the capital of a united Germany.

The session came little less than 11 years after Hitler's Wehrmacht received its final fatal blows in this city. Wehrmacht literally means armed might. The Bonn Republic is lumping its army, navy and air force under the less militant name of Bundeswehr, or federal armed forces.

East Germany already has a "people's army" linked with the Russian-commanded Warsaw military alliance. East German Communists have repeatedly declared West Germany is planning aggression.

West German Defense Minister Theodor Blank assured the legislators that the new Bundeswehr will be used only to preserve West Germany's peace and freedom.

It agreed to go back to work on the huge and complicated farm bill at 11 a.m. Monday. The legislation is designed to add between three and five billion dollars to farmers' incomes this year.

Some 60 amendments remained to be acted on when Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) interrupted the debate and proposed the weekend recess. The bill couldn't be passed tonight even "if we stayed to midnight," Johnson said.

Minority Leader Knowland (R-Calif.) supported him in the move. Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Agriculture Committee and floor manager of the bill, tried to get an assurance from Johnson that the Senate would be kept in session Monday until the bill was passed, but the Democratic leader said he did not want to accept responsibility for keeping the Senate at work all night.

With the planting season not far away, President Eisenhower and many Senate leaders are pressing for speedy action on the farm bill. The legislation will figure prominently in the struggle by both parties for the farm vote next fall.

There was no opposition to the extra 250 million for the pork buying program, and it took the Senate less than two minutes to write the change into the omnibus bill.

The Agriculture Committee had inserted 250 million dollars in the bill for price support operations for pork, beef and other perishables.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) asked that this be doubled to half a billion dollars to give Secretary of Agriculture Benson wide authority to help livestock producers.

Ellender accepted the quarter-billion boost without debate, saying:

"I'll take it to conference."

That means the later Senate-House compromise session would consider a 500-million-dollar item instead of 250 millions. No senator objected.

Springtime Is Near?

You would never know that Spring is just four days away by visiting the eastern coast where one of the heaviest snowfalls of the winter season struck. Here downdrafts from surrounding skyscrapers at Rockefeller Center in New York swirl snow in galelike force. Traffic was snarled and ship and aircraft departures were delayed. (AP Photofax).

Ike's Segregation Stand Is Criticized

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D-NY) suggested today that President Eisenhower is a "neutralist" standing above the segregation battle. This brought a retort of "unwarranted and unfounded" from Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.).

In a brief Senate flurry, Case contended Lehman was injecting politics into the segregation question. This was countered by a claim from Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) that it was Vice President Nixon "who put politics into this vital issue."

The exchange began when Lehman called upon Eisenhower to "assume the responsibility" for enforcing the Supreme Court order outlawing racial segregation in the public schools.

"I cannot stand above the battle, like President Eisenhower, and say with fine impartiality that both sides must show restraint," Lehman declared. He quoted Eisenhower as having warned against "the extremists" on both sides, and asked if the President pictured himself as a "mediator" or a "neutralist."

Case replied: "Any suggestion that the President is a neutralist or is standing above this quarrel is unwarranted and unfounded."

"And I hope that there will be, from no side, even an implied injection of this question into politics, because such a tone, I regret to say, did arise in the remarks of my colleague from New York."

Case said the President agrees the Supreme Court decision "is based upon right and conscience." He added that the only question is as to the speed with which it can be put into effect.

Neuberger then arose to say that it was Nixon who brought the issue into politics. Neuberger quoted Nixon as having said, in a New York speech, that "a Republican chief justice," Earl Warren, delivered the Supreme Court's unanimous verdict against school segregation.

Case said he regarded that remark by Nixon as "unfortunate" and said he believes Nixon "feels the same way."

Other senators, including Southern Democrats who have joined in a "manifesto" calling for a reversal of the Supreme Court ruling, remained silent when Lehman said the manifesto "would be absurd, if it were not so deadly serious and highly dangerous."

While he said "the statement of principles" in which 101 Southern senators and representatives advocated "lawful" resistance to the decree was not inflammatory in tone, "its effect was to support the doctrine of nullification." This doctrine, he said, has been "enunciated in one form or another" by the legislatures of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia.

Rare Beavers Delay Takeoff Of Airplane

WINNIPEG, Man., March 16 (AP)—A Scandinavian Airlines plane was delayed at Stevenson Field for more than an hour today while three rare Scandinavian beavers gave attendants the runaround.

The beavers, part of a shipment of 13 going to Los Angeles from Copenhagen, gnawed their way out of their metal crates. A veterinarian was called to round them up in the plane's cargo compartment.

Truman Greet Daughter, Fiance

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman bounded off a plane during a hailstorm at LaGuardia Field today and took his newly engaged daughter in his arms.

Debt Is Called "Mortal Sin"

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—A witness before the House Post office Committee said today he had been taught "that running in debt, carelessly, beyond ability to pay is a mortal sin."

"If it is a sin for an individual then it is also sinful for a nation," said Steven Stahl, Oklahoma City, Okla., executive vice president of the Oklahoma Public Expenditures Council.

Rep. Dowdy (D-Tex.), a committee member, said he thought that was an apt comparison.

"It is my understanding, or I have heard," Dowdy said, "that living in sin sometimes results in mishaps which, as a consequence, produce illegitimate offspring."

"I believe that the tremendous public debt interest that we have to pay on our public debt is one of those illegitimate offsprings produced in our nation."

Colleen Mailing St. Patrick Letters

ST. PATRICK, Mo., March 16 (AP)—Sure you know 'tis Kelly green Kathleen McArdle, an Irish colleen originally from old County Armagh, has been using in decorating St. Patrick's Day letters to be mailed from here tomorrow.

Miss McArdle has been supervising the marking—with a shamrock and St. Patrick cachet—of letters sent to this northeast Missouri hamlet for remaining to countries all over the world.

Among the notables who will receive letters postmarked from St. Patrick are Pope Pius XII, President Eisenhower, Bernard Cardinal Griffin of London and John Cardinal Alton of Armagh, Ireland.

Late Winter Blizzard Lashes Northeast Coast

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—A late winter blizzard moved in on gale winds today to lash the storm-weary Northeast. Transportation on land, sea and in the air was snarled.

Two deaths were attributed to the storm. A New Haven, Conn., man and his wife were killed when their car skidded off the slushy New Jersey Turnpike and rolled over several times.

Six inches to a foot of snow were in store for some areas before rising temperatures were to bring rain.

In New York Harbor, departure of the big French liner Ile de France—with Prince Rainier of Monaco aboard—was delayed three hours and 13 minutes. The slushy snow fouled the ship's radar.

Off Long Island's eastern tip, a gasoline-laden tanker, Sylvia, sent out an SOS. Wallowing in a gale, she was in danger of being beached. Ten-foot seas were battering the 174-foot ship. She had 13 persons aboard.

Highways were dangerously icy or slushy from Pennsylvania to Massachusetts. President Eisenhower, however, braved rain and sleet to drive from Washington for a weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Massachusetts state police alerted motorists on all highways there to "extremely hazardous" conditions. Boston felt the force of winds of 24 to 35 miles an hour.

Limited visibility at Idlewild Airport in New York caused delays of up to an hour in arrivals and departures. LaGuardia Airport canceled 80 flights.

New York City got two inches of snow in the storm's first few hours. The weatherman said the big town escaped what might have been a paralyzing snowstorm only because the snow was wet and much of it did not stick.

They live a monotonous life behind rose-colored bars of tool proof steel. They are never outside of sight of a guard. There are no trustees on Alcatraz. These men have proved, in lives spent in crimes and in prisons, that they are not to be trusted.

They are mostly murderers—there are 50 of these—bank robbers and post office robbers. They're 34 years old, on the average, and have been in constant trouble since they were teenagers.

There are no paroles from Alcatraz. But contrary to popular belief that the only way to leave the Rock is in a casket, the average time spent on Alcatraz is five years. Prisoners who behave well get "promoted" to other, less restricted prisons.

Maintenance costs average an expensive $7.50 a day per prisoner.

"We don't know whether we can get rid of Alcatraz," he said, "but we'd like to."

Warden Paul J. Madigan, who first came to the Rock in 1934 when the federal prison system took it over from the Army, added: "We still need this type of prison somewhere."

Alcatraz houses 281 criminals who earned their way in by proving themselves too dangerous or too difficult to handle at other federal prisons.

Rebel Forces Ambushed As 107 Are Slain

Paratroops, Armored Units Strike After Several Fire Raids

ALGIERS, Algeria, March 16 (AP)—French forces ambushed a big rebel detachment in eastern Algeria today and killed 107 in a running battle that went on into the night.

Parachute troops and mechanized units joined forces to clamp a steel pincers on the band in the region of Lafayette, a village of 2,500 about 150 miles east of this capital city. Other rebels had just struck Algiers in a series of fire raids.

Spotter planes directed the French pursuit in the Lafayette operation, carried out across a land of grain fields, cork-oak forests and olive groves. The French admitted only one French death and said they expected the rebel casualty toll to soar.

Troops Patrol Algiers

Dispatches from neighboring Tunisia said 40 Tunisian rebels were killed in the region of Gafsa, bringing the day's count of rebel dead in French North Africa to more than 160.

Steel-helmeted French troops patrolled Algiers to enforce a curfew imposed after rebel guerrillas set several fires within the city and its suburbs.

The French administration, in radio and newspaper proclamations, warned the French and Arab population of a half-million to stay off the streets between midnight and 5 a.m.

New state of siege measures were readied to curb the extension to Algiers itself of the terrorism which has plagued the provincial areas for 16 months.

Four masked men seized a big garage in the center of Algiers at 2 a.m., spilled gasoline on the floor and set it afire.

Two Arab guards watched helplessly as the blaze destroyed more than 100 cars and threatened a seven-story apartment building above.

Soldier Spots Blaze

A French soldier spotted the blaze and summoned police and fire fighters in time to get all the apartment dwellers evacuated.

Two Arabs at the same time attempted to put the torch to another Algiers garage, but the watchmen sounded the alarm and the two drove off, covering their escape with pistol fire.

In the Maison Carree suburb, a big cork factory was set afire. A French policeman blocked an effort to burn a bus depot in the Hussein Tey suburb. The incendiaries wounded him with pistol shots before they fled.

A French police inspector was slain east of Algiers at Tizi Ouzou. The raids around Algiers, where the biggest part of French population is concentrated, came simultaneously with an outbreak of guerrilla attacks on French positions and communications throughout the country.

Alcatraz Will Remain U.S. Security Prison For Now

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16 (AP)—Alcatraz, the dread Rock that confines America's most dangerous criminals, is here to stay. The federal government would like to get rid of it, but it will not be abandoned until another equally secure prison is built somewhere else.

That was the word from Department of Justice spokesmen during a mass invitational visit of reporters and photographers this week to the forbidding island that crouches in San Francisco Bay a tantalizing mile and a half from the city's glittering shore.

G. Frederick Mullen, director of information for the Justice Department, spoke hopefully of a bill before Congress to provide 10½ million dollars for a maximum security prison near the nation's population center, somewhere in the Midwest.

"We don't know whether we can get rid of Alcatraz," he said, "but we'd like to."

Warden Paul J. Madigan, who first came to the Rock in 1934 when the federal prison system took it over from the Army, added: "We still need this type of prison somewhere."

Alcatraz houses 281 criminals who earned their way in by proving themselves too dangerous or too difficult to handle at other federal prisons.

Compromise Plan For Atom Okayed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—A 12-power group was reported agreed today on a compromise plan removing the main stumbling-block to creation of an atoms-for-peace agency proposed by President Eisenhower.

Diplomats here said the negotiating group, meeting in Washington, had reached these basic decisions:

1. The atoms-for-peace agency will report to the U.N. Assembly and at times to the U.N. Economic and Social Council. It will report as appropriate to the U.N. Security Council.

2. A conference of 84 countries will be held in May or October at a place to be decided upon and will take final action on the agency's statute.

Still to be settled, the informants said, was the constitution of the board of governors of the atomic energy. The conferees were looking for a plan that would satisfy the atomic powers, the atomic producers and a host of countries which do not possess atomic energy.

The reported agreement on the relationship of the agency to the U.N. was encouraging to delegates here. From the start that has been a disputed point between the Soviet Union and the West, particularly the United States.

The U.N. Assembly last fall approved unanimously a resolution calling for early creation of the agency. The Assembly asked that the Soviet Union, Brazil, Czechoslovakia and India be added to the negotiating group made up of the United States, Britain, France, Canada, Belgium, Australia, South Africa and Portugal. This was done.

The United States last year favored linking the agency to the U.N. as a sort of specialized agency. This would permit it to have its own budget, its constitution and organization and would require it only to let the U.N. have report from time to time. It also would keep it away from any veto by the Security Council.

The Soviet Union proposed that the agency should submit reports on its activities to the Security Council and the General Assembly. Russia also said the statute should contain a provision that the agency should submit to the Security Council any questions falling within the jurisdiction of the Council. The Council has the main job of maintaining international peace and security.

House Pet Is Really Margay

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—A Smithsonian Institution expert has identified the animal which chewed the toes from the left foot of an infant as a margay rather than an ocelot.

Dr. Charles O. Handley, associate curator of mammals, made the identification at the request of Prince Georges County Police.

The injured 2-month-old baby's father, Walter T. Perry, 28, of nearby Beltsville, said he bought the cat in the belief it was an ocelot which he said could be made into a pet. Margays, on the other hand, become wild when grown.

Perry and his 24-year-old wife are charged with keeping a wild animal. They face a hearing Tuesday in Hyattsville.

The baby is recovering in Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore where doctors believe he will be able to eventually use the foot.

The Perrys were in New York City last Tuesday when the child was attacked by the cat.

Winston Prescott, employed by the Perrys to look after the baby, has been charged with failure to give proper supervision to the child.

Sawdust And Dye Marketable Product

ST. LOUIS, March 16 (AP)—Take five tons of sawdust, and green dye, stir well, and you have a marketable product just before St. Patrick's Day.

That's what tavern proprietor Jack O'Shea did—and he has sold 3½ tons of it at $1 per 100-pound sack. Orders are still pouring in. O'Shea started sprinkling the green sawdust on his tavern floor several years back on St. Patrick's Day. He offered it for sale last year for the first time.

Books Closed On Shooting Of U.S. Airplanes

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The United States, with a blast at Russia and Red Czechoslovakia, closed its books for the time being today on World Court damage suits over the shooting down of U.S. planes by the Reds.

A State Department statement said Russia's and Czechoslovakia's refusal to go before the court on the incidents is "to be regretted."

"For its part, the United States government hopes that all governments will not only continue to profess their adherence to principles of international law and peace," the statement said, "but will cooperate to permit these principles to be applied to their own conduct."

The two incidents were the shooting down of a U.S. Air Force F84 jet plane by a Czech MIG over Germany on March 10, 1953, and the destruction of a U.S. Air Force B29 reconnaissance plane Oct. 7, 1952, off northern Japan.

The United States sought $271,384 for the jet fighter and $1,620,295 for the B29 and the loss of its crew.

Czechoslovakia and Russia both said the charges were "totally unfounded" and refused to submit to a hearing before the World Court.

"In filing these applications with the International Court of Justice," the U.S. statement said, "the United States government has exhausted all diplomatic channels."

Negro Is Shot By Hitchhiker

HAVRE DE GRACE, March 16 (AP)—Stevenson Dorsey Campbell of near Glen Burnie was reported in critical condition in Harford Memorial Hospital tonight after being shot several times by a hitchhiker who he said robbed him of $37.

The 46-year-old Campbell, a Negro, told State Police he was in Belair market in Baltimore when another Negro came up to him and told him his wife was sick. The stranger asked him to take him to Edgewood, State Trooper Lemuel Porter said, and Campbell took the man in his car.

At Dembytown, a Negro settlement between Aberdeen and Edgewood, Campbell said, the man pulled a gun and shot him five times. Campbell said he pretended to be dead and tumbled out of the car, whereupon the assailant looked at him a moment, took his money and drove off in the car.

Campbell's car was found later in the afternoon at the Baltimore-Harford County line on a side road under a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad overpass.

Trooper Porter said Campbell staggered about a quarter mile into the community of Dembytown where residents called State Police. A State Police ambulance brought the wounded man to the hospital.

Post Photographer Is Found Shot

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Harry E. Goodwin, 52, veteran Washington Post and Times Herald photographer, was found fatally shot today in a bedroom of his home.

Police Capt. Daniel Kennedy said Goodwin's wife told him her husband had been ill for some time. A .38 caliber revolver was found under the body.

Baltimore Transit Negotiators Plan To Resume Talks

BALTIMORE, March 16 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said today the Baltimore Transit Co. and union officials have agreed to resume negotiations in compliance with his request.

The firm and its union have until Tuesday to agree on a contract before compulsory arbitration obtains under provisions of the law by which the State seized the company.

The strike started at midnight last Jan. 29. The State began operating Baltimore's buses and streetcars last Friday.

Under the seizure law, the company and union could have 45 days more for negotiations if both sides want it.

The governor said the meetings are set for Monday and Tuesday and there will be no Federal or State mediation personnel present.

It is thought the company will go to court to test the constitutionality of the seizure law if compulsory arbitration is invoked.

Dupre To Return To Mexico After SRC Fraud Trial

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 16 (AP)—Ben Dupre, former State Roads Commission engineer who testified in the recent conspiracy trials here, is going back to his native Mexico.

Dupre told a Montgomery County Circuit Court jury how he had helped Constat (Gus) Basiliko and Max Offenberger, Washington real estate men, jack up the prices of land the State bought for the Washington National Pike.

Basiliko and Offenberger were convicted last night of conspiring to defraud the SRC. They will be sentenced April 13. Their lawyers said today a new trial would be asked.

The 44-year-old Dupre had fled to Mexico, but returned to testify last Dec. 23. He said when he came back he had no idea he was to be given immunity from prosecution in return for his testimony.

Dupre said he returned to Maryland because of his wife's illness. He added that he "realized that I had committed an error in not adhering to the truth when I testified last July at that Baltimore hearing (before the State personnel director on his appeal from a suspension order by the SRC)."

Dupre is the son of a French father and a Spanish mother and is a naturalized citizen. He said his wife and their 6-year-old son will join him in Mexico where he has a job which he said pays better than the $6,500 per year post he held with the SRC.

The new position is that of a consulting engineer with a private Mexico City firm which he would not identify by name.

"My only regret is that a shadow may be cast over the boys who worked with me and over the roads commission, and they don't deserve it," Dupre said.

He added he has given his word that he will return to Maryland if his testimony is needed in any further roads trials.

Compromise Plan For Atom Okayed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—A 12-power group was reported today on a compromise plan removing the main stumbling-block to creation of an atom-for-peace agency proposed by President Eisenhower.

Diplomats here said the negotiating group, meeting in Washington, had reached these basic decisions:

1. The atom-for-peace agency will report to the U.N. Assembly and at times to the U.N. Economic and Social Council. It will report as appropriate to the U.N. Security Council.

2. A conference of 84 countries will be held in May or October at a place to be decided upon and will take final action on the agency's statute.

Still to be settled, the informants said, was the constitution of the board of governors of the atomic energy. The conferees were looking for a plan that would satisfy the atomic powers, the atomic producers and a host of countries which do not possess atomic energy.

The reported agreement on the relationship of the agency to the U.N. was encouraging to delegates here. From the start that has been a disputed point between the Soviet Union and the West, particularly the United States.

The U.N. Assembly last fall approved unanimously a resolution calling for early creation of the agency. The Assembly asked that the Soviet Union, Brazil, Czechoslovakia and India be added to the negotiating group made up of the United States, Britain, France, Canada, Belgium, Australia, South Africa and Portugal. This was done.

The United States last year favored linking the agency to the U.N. as a sort of specialized agency. This would permit it to have its own budget, its constitution and organization and would require it only to let the U.N. have report from time to time. It also would keep it away from any veto by the Security Council.

The Soviet Union proposed that the agency should submit reports on its activities to the Security Council and the General Assembly. Russia also said the statute should contain a provision that the agency should submit to the Security Council any questions falling within the jurisdiction of the Council. The Council has the main job of maintaining international peace and security.

Books Closed On Shooting Of U.S. Airplanes

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—The United States, with a blast at Russia and Red Czechoslovakia, closed its books for the time being today on World Court damage suits over the shooting down of U.S. planes by the Reds.

A State Department statement said Russia's and Czechoslovakia's refusal to go before the court on the incidents is "to be regretted."

"For its part, the United States government hopes that all governments will not only continue to profess their adherence to principles of international law and peace," the statement said, "but will cooperate to permit these principles to be applied to their own conduct."

The two incidents were the shooting down of a U.S. Air Force F84 jet plane by a Czech MIG over Germany on March 10, 1953, and the destruction of a U.S. Air Force B29 reconnaissance plane Oct. 7, 1952, off northern Japan.

The United States sought $271,394 for the jet fighter and $1,620,295 for the B29 and the loss of its crew.

Czechoslovakia and Russia both said the charges were "totally unfounded" and refused to submit to a hearing before the World Court.

"In filing these applications with the International Court of Justice," the U.S. statement said, "the United States government has exhausted all diplomatic channels."

Negro Is Shot By Hitchhiker

HAVRE DE GRACE, March 16 (AP)—Stevenson Dorsey Campbell of near Glen Burnie was reported in critical condition in Harford Memorial Hospital tonight after being shot several times by a hitchhiker who he said robbed him of $37.

The 46-year-old Campbell, a Negro, told State Police he was in Belair market in Baltimore when another Negro came up to him and told him his wife was sick. The stranger asked him to take him to Edgewood, State Trooper Lemuel Porter said, and Campbell took the man in his car.

At Dembytown, a Negro settlement between Aberdeen and Edgewood, Campbell said, the man pulled a gun and shot him five times. Campbell said he pretended to be dead and tumbled out of the car, whereupon the assailant looked at him a moment, took his money and drove off in his car.

Campbell's car was found later in the afternoon at the Baltimore-Harford County line on a side road under a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad overpass.

Trooper Porter said Campbell staggered about a quarter mile into the community of Dembytown where residents called State Police. A State Police ambulance brought the wounded man to the hospital.

He said the pace of filing is much slower than in 1955. More than $29,000,000 in refunds have been paid to some 332,000 early filers, Fox reported.

The final filing date is April 16 since April 15 falls on a Sunday.

Income Tax Report Returns Are Slow

BALTIMORE, March 16 (AP)—Clarence I. Fox, district director of internal revenue, said today only 700,000 federal income tax returns out of a possible 1,650,000 have been received in the Baltimore office to date.

He said the pace of filing is much slower than in 1955. More than $29,000,000 in refunds have been paid to some 332,000 early filers, Fox reported.

The final filing date is April 16 since April 15 falls on a Sunday.

State Merger For Unions Is Planned

BALTIMORE, March 16 (AP)—Maryland AFL and CIO labor leaders met here today, reportedly to plan the state merger of the two organizations which have joined forces on the national level.

Harry Cohen, president of the Maryland AFL council, said it was a meeting covering only "routine matters" and a statement would be issued after the groundwork for the merger has been laid.

Concern Expressed Over Kidnapings

BANGKOK, Thailand, March 16 (AP)—Premier P. Pibulsonggram expressed concern today over what he charged was the kidnapping of eight Thai residents. He said protests to Cambodia brought a reply that they had been held for questioning after wandering across the border, then were returned.

House Pet Is Really Margay

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—A Smithsonian Institution expert has identified the animal which chewed the toes from the left foot of an infant as a margay rather than an ocelot.

Dr. Charles O. Handley, associate curator of mammals, made the identification at the request of Prince Georges County Police.

The injured 2-month-old baby's father, Walter T. Perry, 28, of nearby Beltsville, said he bought the cat in the belief it was an ocelot which he said could be made into a pet. Margays, on the other hand, become wild when grown.

Perry and his 24-year-old wife are charged with keeping a wild animal. They face a hearing Tuesday in Hyattsville.

The baby is recovering in Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore where doctors believe he will be able to eventually use the foot.

The Perrys were in New York City last Tuesday when the child was attacked by the cat.

Winston Prescott, employed by the Perrys to look after the baby, has been charged with failure to give proper supervision to the child.

Sawdust And Dye Marketable Product

ST. LOUIS, March 16 (AP)—Take five tons of sawdust, and green dye, stir well, and you have a marketable product just before St. Patrick's Day.

That's what tavern proprietor Jack O'Shea did—and he has sold 3½ tons of it at $1 per 100-pound sack. Orders are still pouring in. O'Shea started sprinkling the green sawdust on his tavern floor several years back on St. Patrick's Day. He offered it for sale last year for the first time.

Baltimore Transit Negotiators Plan To Resume Talks

BALTIMORE, March 16 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said today the Baltimore Transit Co. and union officials have agreed to resume negotiations in compliance with his request.

The firm and its union have until Tuesday to agree on a contract before compulsory arbitration obtains under provisions of the law by which the State seized the company.

The strike started at midnight last Jan. 29. The State began operating Baltimore's buses and streetcars last Friday.

Under the seizure law, the company and union could have 45 days more for negotiations if both sides want it.

The governor said the meetings are set for Monday and Tuesday and there will be no Federal or State mediation personnel present.

It is thought the company will go to court to test the constitutionality of the seizure law if compulsory arbitration is invoked.

Dupre To Return To Mexico After SRC Fraud Trial

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 16 (AP)—Ben Dupre, former State Roads Commission engineer who testified in the recent conspiracy trials here, is going back to his native Mexico.

Dupre told a Montgomery County Circuit Court jury how he had helped Constan (Gus) Basiliko and Max Offenber, Washington real estate men, jack up the prices of land the State bought for the Washington National Pike.

Basiliko and Offenber were convicted last night of conspiring to defraud the SRC. They will be sentenced April 13. Their lawyers said today a new trial would be asked.

The 44-year-old Dupre had fled to Mexico, but returned to testify last Dec. 23. He said when he came back he had no idea he was to be given immunity from prosecution in return for his testimony.

Dupre said he returned to Maryland because of his wife's illness. He added that he "realized that I had committed an error in not adhering to the truth when I testified last July at that Baltimore hearing (before the State personnel director on his appeal from a suspension order by the SRC)."

Dupre is the son of a French father and a Spanish mother and is a naturalized citizen. He said his wife and their 6-year-old son will join him in Mexico where he has a job which he said pays better than the $6,500 per year post he held with the SRC.

The new position is that of a consulting engineer with a private Mexico City firm which he would not identify by name.

"My only regret is that a shadow may be cast over the boys who worked with me and over the roads commission, and they don't deserve it," Dupre said.

He added he has given his word that he will return to Maryland if his testimony is needed in any further roads trials.

Parkway Legislation Is Under Study

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners was informed by letter yesterday that legislative action is being prepared by the Department of Interior to provide for the C&O Canal Parkway project between Cumberland and Hancock.

This information was contained in a letter signed by Assistant Secretary of the Interior Wesley A. D'Ewart. He was replying to a letter sent by the county commissioners in February in which they protested the then announced intention to abandon the project.

Interior Secretary Douglas McKay later on, following a conference with U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall and Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, changed plans and agreed to the construction of the parkway and various recreation areas.

Raleigh, N. C., is named after Sir Walter Raleigh.

Science Is Important But So Are The Arts

Amid great concern over lagging replenishment of scientifically-trained youth coming from the campuses of America, it is reassuring to hear a voice raised in industry against the danger of neglecting the arts.

This was the note of caution sounded in a talk by Albert E. Forster, president of the Hercules Powder Company. As great as the need for scientists may be, he is apprehensive lest in emphasis on technology the nation let cultural development lag.

Industry, which has done much in recent years for education—in scholarships, in fellowships, in endowments and in grants—nevertheless was told it has not done enough. The young people who must be trained today to take the places of leadership in tomorrow's industries were termed the nation's most important raw material. And it was for their education that outlay of a bigger share of profits was urged.

Whatever may be the deficiencies in the supply of trained personnel coming from the colleges and universities of the country, Forster seems to have given a timely warning against too great emphasis upon scientific education, if it is to be to the exclusion of the field of arts. It would be a foolhardy course to correct one shortage by creating a worse one.

If facilities are provided and young people are given opportunities to gain an education, it would seem that career openings could be expected to be an automatic control upon the fields in which the supply of raw material—the young people—will flow.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Theory Of Equality

Chester I. Barnard, Paul G. Hoffman and David Sarnoff have sent out a circular letter under the imprimatur of the Institute for Religious and Social Studies, in the course of which they ask a profound question. They want a statement on the subject of equality. They ask: "... What do you understand human equality to mean? What significance do you believe this concept has in man's moral life? Of what importance is it to America's domestic and international welfare? Have considerations of human equality ever consciously affected your work? To what extent have you been able to implement the concept of human equality? What challenges have you met? What compromises have you been forced to adopt? How does the problem of practically implementing this concept in the world today present itself to you?"

I cannot believe that an intelligent man such as David Sarnoff is really wants anyone to answer these questions. His own experience, coming up from a janitor's basement on the Lower East Side, must convince him that there is no such thing as equality, just as the screeching of some of the women on his network is not equal to the singing of Lily Pons or Roberta Peters. Hidden in these questions are subtleties which we can ignore; this is what they wrote. They want to know about equality which does not and cannot exist in anything living.

One of the most tragic errors associated with the word, democracy, has been the assumption that all men are equal. The practical result of such a theory is that all boys and girls are kept in school up to a fixed age even if they give every evidence of not being able to learn anything that is taught there. The boredom for such youngsters must be frightful, listening day in and day out to the drone of the teacher who is also bored because she gets no response from the class. This same theory of equality sends thousands of young people to colleges where they do their best getting a C after the standards have been sufficiently lowered to make it possible.

Into this discussion must come the word, respect. Even in the socialistic countries of Europe, there is respect for status, which means nothing more than a general acknowledgment of achievement, the acceptance of the fact that a person having worked hard in a given field and done well is worthy of acknowledgment of his efforts and achievement. That used to be true in the United States until recent years when the preaching of equality as a synonym for democracy, for political reasons, eliminated respect.

From a moral standpoint, equality is not as important as orderly living. Under our Constitution, all men are equal in the eyes of the law, except when they commit misdemeanors or felonies, whereupon they lose the right of equality and go to jail if caught and convicted.

Citizens of a certain age have an equal right to vote, provided they are not provably insane. There are no restrictions in this respect upon morons, idiots or even the ignorant. In some states, they have an educational test for a first voter. This test really comes down to forcing a naturalized foreigner to prove that he can read enough English to capture some of the Constitution, the examiners not being too well informed themselves. It takes such a man a long time to discover that his equal right to vote with a native came to him not from a politician but from the Constitution.

It used to be that Americans understood all this and did not demand equality but fought for opportunity to achieve immensely important things for themselves and their families. But after the depression of 1929, the economists and sociologists preached the doctrine of a state-guaranteed security and the income tax robbed everyone of the opportunity to become rich by his own efforts, with the result that many conditions of life changed hereabouts and, as I look at it, none for the better.

If these three gentlemen who sent out the form letter are trying to establish equality as a way of life, they will fail utterly because it is a biologically untenable demand. They had better accept it as truth that all men are as unequal as they are unlike each other.

Just Like St. Patrick's Day Used To Be

U. S. Has No Reason To Interfere In Cyprus

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Cyprus is an integral part of Great Britain. There is no more reason for the United States to interfere in the internal affairs of Great Britain than there would be for the British to interpose any objections to what is being done by this country in its policies toward the islands of Puerto Rico or Hawaii.

Yet 18 U. S. senators—12 Democrats and 6 Republicans—have intruded in the most delicate kind of a matter of foreign policy in the Mediterranean which is difficult enough for the State Department to deal with anyhow. Now the British government and the British people are rightly indignant over such unwarranted interposition.

Endangers Good Relations

Not so long ago some of these same senators were denouncing a Wisconsin senator because he tried to persuade some Greek ship owners to stop smuggling strategic goods to the Communists and it was argued then that he was encroaching on the executive branch of the United States government. The resolution sponsored by the 18 senators, however, goes farther than anything Senator McCarthy ever did and endangers as well the good relations between America and Britain.

The proposed resolution in the Senate asks the United States government to say to the British government that it must give up its territory of Cyprus. The argument is that "four-fifths of the people of Cyprus are Greeks in language, culture, church, tradition and affection."

On that same basis, Poland might claim certain American cities because there are more Poles in our big cities than there are in Warsaw. Likewise, if population is a criterion, there are more Jews in America than in Palestine.

Mere quantity of persons with a cultural or other tie to some foreign land has never been a justifiable basis for changing the legal relationship between a sovereign nation and its citizens unless, of course, such a nation voluntarily decided to relinquish control as America did in the Philippines.

The same senatorial proposal criticizes Britain for "the use of force," and yet subversion inside Cyprus is notorious. What possible justification can 18 American senators have for reprimanding Britain for its use of force when it is the right of every sovereign nation to suppress rebellion within its borders? America repeatedly suppressed revolt in the Philippines in the early part of this century.

Told Of Violence

The official text of the announcement, made by the British government last week when it deported the Greek Archbishop Makarios, told of acts of violence instigated by the archbishop. It said in part:

"While overtly and apparently in good faith conducting negotiations for a political settlement of the island's future, the archbishop has surreptitiously encouraged and abetted the terrorists in order to improve his bargaining position in the negotiations...."

The British governor in Cyprus decided to deport the archbishop "in the light not only of his overt seditious activities but also of a large volume of evidence indicating that the archbishop has himself been deeply implicated in the campaign of terrorism...."

The archbishop himself was caught in the act of dealing with subversive organizations and his official residence was used "for the temporary storage of arms and grenades."

When the Greek archbishop was deported the press was filled with statements alleging that the American government was "shocked" at the action taken by the British and hinting that the State Department felt he was being mistreated. There is not the slightest foundation for such an impression. The U. S. Department of State expressed no protest and merely said it didn't know of the step in advance. Nor is it necessary for the British to notify the State Department when ever a British official takes security measures in a territory under British control.

Communists Involved

The island of Cyprus is important as a strategic base in the Mediterranean. The Communists have worked in league with the terrorists in Cyprus. This activity is part of the cold war.

There are many places in the world where nationalist movements are in progress, but strangely enough the "left wingers" of today become involved in pleas to end colonial rule in the very areas where Allied military strength is thereupon weakened. The Communist effort to wrest North Africa and the Mediterranean bases from the Western World is aided and abetted by many Americans who cry "colonialism" but at the same time denounce the secretary of state if he dares to mention the "peaceful liberation" of the Eastern European peoples who really had their independence at one time and were deprived of it by the Communists, as in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

Acne, Curable Early, Has Its Social Implications

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deifen

Americans emphasize personal appearance. This is hard on individuals with skin disorders, particularly the more self-conscious and sensitive. Most of us have had some experience along this line during adolescence.

If there is only a smattering of pimples and blackheads, the youngster is not too unhappy but the more serious forms of acne represent a true disease and skin disfigurement. Girls are deprived of social engagements and young men are rejected for employment. The eruption has proved to be an obstacle to marriage, a source of depression, and a cause for suicide.

But this need not be, as acne is curable provided it is arrested in the early stages. The basic lesion is in the sebaceous, or oil producing glands, which are over-active. In addition, the pores of these structures thicken and prevent skin oils from escaping. As a result, the sebaceous material stagnates and decomposes.

When the lesion becomes infected, a pimple forms and unless pus can drain the pimple enlarges, becomes cystic, and ends in a pitted scar. The prevention of acne is aimed at decreasing the activity of the oil producing glands and keeping the pores from thickening and plugging the openings.

The simplest plan is to wash the face with hot water and a medicinal soft soap to clean out debris and dirt. The face is then rinsed with cool water and a lotion applied. The most effective contain sulphur, which has a drying effect on the glands and resorcinol or salicylic acid, which prevents pores from thickening and obstructing the flow of the secretions.

Meanwhile, there is no objection to removing blackheads, provided it is done gently and in a sanitary way. Extractors are available for this purpose. Diet also enters the picture because carbohydrates and fats stimulate the sebaceous glands.

Foods like nuts, chocolate, and strong cheese irritate the glands as do certain medications such as iodides and bromides. Antibiotics are not recommended as preventives but they help in treatment. Acne is worse during hot, humid weather because the pores thicken in this environment, which in turn obstructs their openings.

Ultraviolet rays, which are more intense during summer, counteract the effects of a hot, humid climate by drying the skin. The use of hormones, vitamin A, and vaccines is controversial and the decision on the application of X-ray to the skin must be left to the discretion of the specialist.

Kansas, close to the White House and a personal friend of the President.

Harry Darby, of Kansas City, Kas., Republican national committeeman, and one of the original drafters of Eisenhower for president.

To them young Governor Fred Hall is an upstart who challenges their right to dominate Kansas. And though it's traditional for a Republican governor of Kansas to be unopposed by his own party for a second term, nevertheless the old guard this time is not sticking with tradition. It is out to defeat Hall. Furthermore, the old guard indirectly tried to enlist White House support to do it.

Last fall when the young governor of Kansas came to Washington for the Governor's Conference, Assistant President Sherman Adams sent for him.

"We hope," he admonished, "there won't be any trouble in Kansas. President Eisenhower doesn't want anything to happen to his friends. So we hope you won't let anyone run against Senator Carlson for reelection and will not challenge Harry Darby for the National Committee."

Governor Hall told Adams he was just as anxious as anyone to keep peace in the party, but, shortly after he got back to Kansas, he found that Ike's friends Carlson and Darby weren't. And though he carried out his pledge to Adams not to oppose either, the governor found he was being opposed by them. They have entered a Republican candidate against him in the primary.

So, you're going to see a knock-down, drag-out battle inside the Republican party in Kansas.

Close Race In Kansas

Later I talked to Elder Statesman Landon about this fight. Specifically I asked him: "Is the farm revolt such that a miracle might happen and Kansas go Democratic?"

Landon was careful. "You have all the ingredients here that you had in 1930," he said. "Then you had drought. You had sliding farm prices. You had bitter dissension inside the Republican party. And George McGill, a young Democrat whom nobody had ever heard of, was elected to the Senate. "Now it's almost the same," diagnosed Landon, "you have drought. You have a widening gap between farm prices and what the farmer buys. And you have dissension within the Republican party—opposition to a second term for the governor.

"With Ike running, he'll probably carry the state," concluded the Republican who once ran for president himself, "but it won't be easy."

Visiting with Governor Hall at his executive mansion, an old Tudor-type building that looked like my grandfather's home in Parsons, Kas., I asked him why the rip-roaring, bull-moose state of William Allen White and Henry Allen had now gone conservative.

"I suppose it's because during the depression so many young people moved away," he said. "They couldn't find jobs here, so they left for the East of California. The old people stayed behind and old people are sometimes conservative."

"But, basically," he added, "Kansas is still progressive. There's a tremendous core of good government people in our towns. They want honest government, and that's the core of my support."

Kansas Lobbyists

Governor Hall was an enthusiastic supporter of President Eisenhower when Ike vetoed the gas bill. Senators Carlson and Schoeppel of Kansas were not.

"We had the lobbyists doing the same thing in our legislature," Hall said, referring to the gas lobbyists. "On the last day the cigarette lobbyists were passing out cartons of free cigarettes right on the Senate floor, brazenly walking up and down the aisle passing out free cartons. The Senate had just defeated a cigarette tax. That was how highhanded these lobbyists can get."

Fred Hall is one of the few Republican governors who has been friendly to labor. They like him, have vigorously supported him in a state where labor usually votes Democratic.

In many respects, he and his elder adviser, Alf Landon, represent the progressive, Teddy Roosevelt wing of the Republican party, which had part of its grass roots in Kansas. And if the GOP is looking for new life and new blood to inject into a "Grand Old Party" where red corpses have been a little weak at times they would do well to scrutinize carefully the energetic young man from Topeka.

All persons having peculiarities, aberrations, idiosyncrasies, obsessions belong to the same ilk and have a mild form of paranoia, to say the least.

You go to church out of curiosity to hear a ghost preacher, and lo and behold! he is a guest preacher.

You mail a letter to your sweetheart, and one day after a long hopeful waiting you are called to the C.O.D. window to pick up a package from the Dead Letter Office. The envelope contains the letter you wrote two weeks before returned, because you fluffed the address.

Meanwhile, another suitor has beat your time and you have lost the girl and 48 cents postage. Ah me!

"Pahson, when the Bible say there shall be gnashin' of teeth and a fella' ain't got no teeth, what then?" "Don't worry, Ebenezer, teeth will be provided."

From under the table comes the whisper that the dusting powder commonly used to destroy chicken lice is to be further used to impregnate our drinking water to keep children's teeth from going bad.

It's perhaps a cuckoo question, but will teeth be provided for those who have none, or shall they drink sterilized water spiked with gin?

Elizabeth Barrett had a strange obsession. She spent three-quarters of her life in a room dimmed by a dark blind pulled half-down, with ivy grown in a tangle over the panes. No broom or duster was allowed to disturb her repose from October to May, and there she lay on her couch among pillows and shawls writing the best poetry that any woman had written in the English language, her constant companion being her dog, Flush.

Eloped To Italy

She believed she had a disease of the spine, but the doctors were unable to find anything wrong. That was in 1845; in 1846, less than a year after, she eloped with Robert Browning to Italy where they lived a happy married life and a healthy son was born.

Of her pet dog she wrote: "The Flushes have their laurels as well as the Caesars."

The ancient Goths were allergic to liquor, so they discussed their plans first when they were drunk, and again when they were sober, that their boldness should be qualified by prudence. The wise ones don't tempt the devil.

Many folks are allergic to reading, they can't "stand" books. They make them drowsy. It is recorded that a man tried to read Carlyle's "French Revolution" and his recovery from influenza was retarded.

Another celebrity lined his hat box with poetry, which so strangely affected his hat that the first time he wore it he felt a singing in his head, which within two days turned into a vertigo.

Books, magazines and this rodomontade have a therapeutic value, as many people in all ages have derived prophylactics from colors, sounds and forms of words.

We have an instance of the therapeutic value of music in I Samuel 16:23, where David played his harp before King Saul, and the patient immediately recovered from his neurasthenia.

Curative Reading

Physicians have been known to prescribe books as a therapy, and the time is not far distant when hospitals will be equipped with libraries stocked with books chosen for their curative properties—just as apothecary shops have their pharmacopoeia.

Then if the patient is recovering from an automobile accident the doctor may prescribe "I'm A Lucky Guy" by Frank B. Gilbreth Jr.

If the patient has a fit of uncontrollable cackling, he will prescribe "Fox's Book of Martyns."

If a mother is convalescing from childbirth, the nurse hands her Gilbreth's "Cheaper by the Dozen."

If he's an alcoholic, the doctor prescribes "Abraham Lincoln," by John Drinkwater.

Sermons have been regarded a sure cure for insomnia. Try it, it works.

Books having medicinal values should be neither boring nor too exciting, interesting but not dramatic.

The brainiest people are often cuckoo, so don't be ashamed to class yourself with another specimen.

Science Is Important But So Are The Arts

Amid great concern over lagging replenishment of scientifically-trained youth coming from the campuses of America, it is reassuring to hear a voice raised in industry against the danger of neglecting the arts.

This was the note of caution sounded in a talk by Albert E. Forster, president of the Hercules Powder Company. As great as the need for scientists may be, he is apprehensive lest in emphasis on technology the nation let cultural development lag.

Industry, which has done much in recent years for education—in scholarships, in fellowships, in endowments and in grants—nevertheless was told it has not done enough. The young people who must be trained today to take the places of leadership in tomorrow's industries were termed the nation's most important raw material. And it was for their education that outlay of a bigger share of profits was urged.

Whatever may be the deficiencies in the supply of trained personnel coming from the colleges and universities of the country, Forster seems to have given a timely warning against too great emphasis upon scientific education, if it is to be to the exclusion of the field of arts. It would be a foolhardy course to correct one shortage by creating a worse one.

If facilities are provided and young people are given opportunities to gain an education, it would seem that career openings could be expected to be an automatic control upon the fields in which the supply of raw material—the young people—will flow.

The Theory Of Equality

Chester I. Barnard, Paul G. Hoffman and David Sarnoff have sent out a circular letter under the imprimatur of the Institute for Religious and Social Studies, in the course of which they ask a profound question. They want a statement on the subject of equality. They ask: "... What do you understand human equality to mean? What significance do you believe this concept has in man's moral life? Of what importance is it to America's domestic and international welfare? Have considerations of human equality ever consciously affected your work? To what extent have you been able to implement the concept of human equality? What challenges have you met? What compromises have you been forced to adopt? How does the problem of practically implementing this concept in the world today present itself to you?"

I cannot believe that an intelligent man such as David Sarnoff is really wants anyone to answer these questions. His own experience, coming up from a janitor's basement on the Lower East Side, must convince him that there is no such thing as equality, just as the screeching of some of the women on his network is not equal to the singing of Lily Pons or Roberta Peters. Hidden in these questions are subtleties which we can ignore; this is what they wrote. They want to know about equality which does not and cannot exist in anything living.

One of the most tragic errors associated with the word, democracy, has been the assumption that all men are equal. The practical result of such a theory is that all boys and girls are kept in school up to a fixed age even if they give every evidence of not being able to learn anything that is taught there. The boredom for such youngsters must be frightful, listening day in and day out to the drone of the teacher who is also bored because she gets no response from the class. This same theory of equality sends thousands of young people to colleges where they do their best getting a C after the standards have been sufficiently lowered to make it possible.

Into this discussion must come the word, respect. Even in the socialistic countries of Europe, there is respect for status, which means nothing more than a general acknowledgment of achievement, the acceptance of the fact that a person having worked hard in a given field and done well is worthy of acknowledgment of his efforts and achievement. That used to be true in the United States until recent years when the preachment of equality as a synonym for democracy, for political reasons, eliminated respect.

From a moral standpoint, equality is not as important as orderly living. Under our Constitution, all men are equal in the eyes of the law, except when they commit misdemeanors or felonies, whereupon they lose the right of equality and go to jail if caught and convicted.

Citizens of a certain age have an equal right to vote, provided they are not provably insane. There are no restrictions in this respect upon morons, idiots or even the ignorant. In some states, they have an educational test for a first voter. This test really comes down to forcing a naturalized foreigner to prove that he can read enough English to capture some of the Constitution, the examiners not being too well informed themselves. It takes such a man a long time to discover that his equal right to vote with a native came to him not from a politician but from the Constitution.

It used to be that Americans understood all this and did not demand equality but fought for opportunity to achieve immensely important things for themselves and their families. But after the depression of 1929, the economists and sociologists preached the doctrine of a state-guaranteed security and the income tax robbed everyone of the opportunity to become rich by his own efforts, with the result that many conditions of life changed hereabouts and, as I look at it, none for the better.

If these three gentlemen who sent out the form letter are trying to establish equality as a way of life, they will fail utterly because it is a biologically untenable demand. They had better accept it as truth that all men are as unequal as they are unlike each other.

Just Like St. Patrick's Day Used To Be

U. S. Has No Reason To Interfere In Cyprus

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Cyprus is an integral part of Great Britain. There is no more reason for the United States to interfere in the internal affairs of Great Britain than there would be for the British to interpose any objections to what is being done by this country in its policies toward the islands of Puerto Rico or Hawaii.

Yet 18 U. S. senators—12 Democrats and 6 Republicans—have intruded in the most delicate kind of a matter of foreign policy in the Mediterranean which is difficult enough for the State Department to deal with anyhow. Now the British government and the British people are rightly indignant over such unwarranted interposition.

Endangers Good Relations

Not so long ago some of these same senators were denouncing a Wisconsin senator because he tried to persuade some Greek ship owners to stop smuggling strategic goods to the Communists and it was argued then that he was encroaching on the executive branch of the United States government. The resolution sponsored by the 18 senators, however, goes farther than anything Senator McCarthy ever did and endangers as well the good relations between America and Britain.

The proposed resolution in the Senate asks the United States government to say to the British government that it must give up its territory of Cyprus. The argument is that "four-fifths of the people of Cyprus are Greeks in language, culture, church, tradition and affection."

On that same basis, Poland might claim certain American cities because there are more Poles in our big cities than there are in Warsaw. Likewise, if population is a criterion, there are more Jews in America than in Palestine.

American emphasize personal appearance. This is hard on individuals with skin disorders, particularly the more self-conscious and sensitive. Most of us have had some experience along this line during adolescence.

But this need not be, as acne is curable provided it is arrested

Mere quantity of persons with a cultural or other tie to some foreign land has never been a justifiable basis for changing the legal relationship between a sovereign nation and its citizens unless, of course, such a nation voluntarily decided to relinquish control as America did in the Philippines.

The same senatorial proposal criticizes Britain for "the use of force," and yet subversion inside Cyprus is notorious. What possible justification can 18 American senators have for reprimanding Britain for its use of force when it is the right of every sovereign nation to suppress rebellion within its borders? America repeatedly suppressed revolt in the Philippines in the early part of this century.

The official text of the announcement, made by the British government last week when it deported the Greek Archbishop Makarios, told of acts of violence instigated by the archbishop. It said in part:

"While overtly and apparently in good faith conducting negotiations for a political settlement of the island's future, the archbishop has surreptitiously encouraged and abetted the terrorists in order to improve his bargaining position in the negotiations."

The British governor in Cyprus decided to deport the archbishop "in the light not only of his overt seditious activities but also of a large volume of evidence indicating that the archbishop has himself been deeply implicated in the campaign of terrorism."

The archbishop himself was caught in the act of dealing with subversive organizations and his official residence was used "for the temporary storage of arms and grenades."

When the Greek archbishop was deported the press was filled with statements alleging that the American government was "shocked" at the action taken by the British and hinting that the State Department felt he was being mistreated. There is not the slightest foundation for such an impression. The U. S. Department of State expressed no protest and merely said it didn't know of the step in advance. Nor is it necessary for the British to notify the State Department when ever a British official takes security measures in a territory under British control.

Communists Involved

The island of Cyprus is important as a strategic base in the Mediterranean. The Communists have worked in league with the terrorists in Cyprus. This activity is part of the cold war.

There are many places in the world where nationalist movements are in progress, but strangely enough the "left wingers" of today become involved in pleas to end colonial rule in the very areas where Allied military strength is thereupon weakened. The Communist effort to wrest North Africa and the Mediterranean bases from the Western World is aided and abetted by many Americans who cry "colonialism" but at the same time denounce the secretary of state if he dares to mention the "peaceful liberation" of the Eastern European peoples who really had their independence at one time and were deprived of it by the Communists, as in Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

Farm Revolt In Kansas Could Mean Close Vote In November Election

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The other day I went out to Topeka, Kas., to talk to two leaders of the Republican party about the smouldering farm-belt resentment and what GOP leaders in Washington should do about it.

One of the men I talked to, Alf Landon, had led his party as candidate for president exactly two decades ago. The other, Landon's protégé, Fred Hall, is the youngest Republican governor in the nation.

Landon I found in shirtsleeves, looking philosophically out over the Kansas prairies from his skyscraper office building. He has grown old gracefully, shows no bitterness over the way his party let him down in the 1938 Roosevelt landslide. He rides horseback in the morning, catches up with his mail—especially long letters to my old partner, Bob Allen, drills a few oil wells and enjoys life. Alf will be 70 on his next birthday.

His young friend, Governor Hall, whom Alf helped elect, is restless, dynamic, bursting with energy in his fight against old guard Republicanism. With the GOP primary still months away, the governor came direct from his campaign headquarters to lunch in the governor's mansion. He was already charting his battle against the old guard faction which has ruled Kansas for years.

Adams Gives Advice

That faction includes some of Eisenhower's good friends. Yet Hall, himself strong for Eisenhower, has defeated them three different times in races for lieutenant governor and governor. He predicts he will do so again this year.

The like friends are: Frank Carlson, U.S. senator from

Kansas, close to the White House and a personal friend of the President.

Harry Darby, of Kansas City, Kas., Republican national committeeman, and one of the original drafters of Eisenhower for president.

Many folks are allergic to reading, they can't "stand" books. They make them drowsy. It is recorded that a man tried to read Carlyle's "French Revolution" and his recovery from influenza was retarded.

Another celebrity lined his hat box with poetry, which so strangely affected his hat that the first time he wore it he felt a singing in his head, which within two days turned into a vertigo.

Books, magazines and this redomontade have a therapeutic value, as many people in all ages have derived prophylactics from colors, sounds and forms of words.

We have an instance of the therapeutic value of music in I Samuel 16:23, where David played his harp before King Saul, and the patient immediately recovered from his neurasthenia.

Curative Reading

Physicians have been known to prescribe books as a therapy, and the time is not far distant when hospitals will be equipped with libraries stocked with books chosen for their curative properties—just as apothecary shops have their pharmacopoeia.

Then if the patient is recovering from an automobile accident the doctor may prescribe "I'm A Lucky Guy" by Frank B. Gilbreth Jr.

If the patient has a fit of uncontrollable cackling, he will prescribe "Fox's Book of Martlets."

If a mother is convalescing from childbirth, the nurse hands her Gilbreth's "Cheaper by the Dozen."

If he's an alcoholic, the doctor prescribes "Abraham Lincoln," by John Drinkwater.

Sermons have been regarded a sure cure for insomnia. Try it, it works.

Books having medicinal values should be neither boring nor too exciting, interesting but not dramatic.

The brainiest people are often cuckoo, so don't be ashamed to class yourself with another specimen.

So many things develop from within, and so do we. The chick comes out of the egg, the flower from a tiny seed, the tree adds rings year after year to its outer core. Always it is the inner life.

And so it is with the heart of man. When the inner man is fed by God's Holy Word, the outer life becomes a joyful expression, a vital power that overcomes all obstacles and sweeps on to eternal life.

The Church nourishes the inner life of spirit so essential to outer growth and beautiful expression. From the Church comes the instruction and inspiration for happy, worthwhile living. Attend some church regularly, and see what a difference it makes.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

So many things develop from within, and so do we. The chick comes out of the egg, the flower from a tiny seed, the tree adds rings year after year to its outer core. Always it is the inner life.

And so it is with the heart of man. When the inner man is fed by God's Holy Word, the outer life becomes a joyful expression, a vital power that overcomes all obstacles and sweeps on to eternal life.

The Church nourishes the inner life of spirit so essential to outer growth and beautiful expression. From the Church comes the instruction and inspiration for happy, worthwhile living. Attend some church regularly, and see what a difference it makes.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

EASTER PARTY CENTERPIECE — Spring flowers and fluffy chicks combine with Easter eggs to make a gay, colorful centerpiece for a buffet luncheon or supper party. Festive as it is, the arrangement is very simple to do. Using styrofoam as the base, insert four candles allowing space in and around the candles for arranging the eggs; then place several sprays of spring flowers and sprigs of fern for a background. For the Easter eggs, it is better to use just the shells from which the raw contents have been removed. The decorative eggs may be saved for another year with no problem of waste or spoilage as in the case of hardboiled eggs which must be refrigerated if they are intended to be eaten. The raw egg may be "blown" from the shell by piercing both ends with a sharp point. Blow with the lips through one hole until the contents are completely out of the shell. Or break a small section on the side or at the end of the raw egg and shake out the contents. Color the shells with Easter egg dyes, taking care to drain well. Leave some of the eggs plain. For the ribbon and flower eggs, carefully break away part of the sides, or the small end half, of the egg shell. Fill with nest grass and sprigs of artificial flowers or small fluffy chicks. Glue narrow ribbon to the inside or around the outside of the eggs and tie in a small bow. Suspend on the candle using a small straight pin. Pins stuck in the styrofoam hold the eggs in place.

Today, with a population 50% bigger than it was in 1920, there are only 66,500 orphans. # Allegany Sinks Bel Air, 69-59, Advances To State Finals

Brown's Goals Turn Tide In Final Period

Campers Rack Up 50 In 2nd Half; Battle Northwestern Today

COLLEGE PARK, March 16—Scorching the cords for 50 points in the second half after an erratic start, Allegany High School's Campers of Cumberland marched to the finals of the Maryland Class "A" scholastic basketball tournament by eliminating the Bel Air High School Bobcats tonight at the University of Maryland by the score of 69-59.

Coach Robert Eugene "Red" Shaw's Allegany County standard bearers qualified to play Northwestern High School of Hyattsville in Saturday night's "A" final at 9 o'clock. The Prince Georges county quint forged into the championship game by beating Wicomico High School of Salisbury, 57-35, in the final game on the opening day's program of six semi-final contests.

Trail 28-18 At Half
Allegany got away to a wretched start and trailed throughout the first half. The Campers took 41 shots and made out nine field goals. Meanwhile the Bobcats were successful on nine of the 16 tries from the field and they meshed ten foul shots to grab the long end of a 28-18 score. The big thorn in Allegany's side during the first half was Fred Calcutt as he slammed in 15 of Bel Air's 29 markers on 4 for 4 from the field and 7 out of 9 at the charity line. In addition to the Campers' nine baskets in the first half, Kenny Johnson made one point at the 15-foot mark.

When Allegany put on an all-court press in the third quarter the Cumberlanders began to roll. Two baskets by Johnson and one by Rodney Breedlove launched the Campers' offensive and with 3:38 remaining the Shawmen caught up with the Bobcats at 36-36 on Breedlove's fielder. The score was knotted at 42-42 and also at 46-46 as the period ended.

In the final stanza, Henry Helton and Breedlove matched baskets to make it 48-48. Capt. Carl Brown and Helton connected and it was still knotted at 50-50. Then Brown turned the tide in Allegany's favor when he banged in three goals in succession to give the Campers a 6 point advantage at 56-50 when 4:36 left to play. Allegany never relinquished the lead thereafter.

Capt. Brown Stands Out
Capt. Brown was a standout in the Cumberland team's victory as he hit seven times in eight tries from the field during the second half spurt and it was his three goals that turned the tide of battle in favor of his team. Kenny Johnson, who paced the AHS scorers with 21 points, played under the handicap of three personal fouls in the first period, sat out most of the second quarter, and came back to score six times from the field in 10 tries during the second half. Breedlove also played an important role beneath the hoops on defense and offense.

Brown led in field goals with nine and was runner-up to Johnson in scoring with 18 tallies. Breedlove and Ronnie Minnick collected 12 points each.

The game's high scorer was Fred Calcutt who accounted for 26 Bel Air tallies on eight fielders and 10-15 at the foul line. Helton dumped in 16 points and Chandler garnered 13.

Player Is Ejected
Ronnie Keister, of Bel Air, was ejected by the officials when he was charged with a deliberate foul with 1:16 remaining in the final period. Allegany had put the ball in a deep freeze and when Keister shoved Johnson the Bobcat player was waved out of the game. Johnson, incidentally, made good on both foul shots. Calcutt of Bel Air fouled out with 12 seconds left to play.

In chalking up its 19th win in 24 starts, Allegany turned in a game shooting average of 38.2 by connecting 29 times in 76 shots from the field. The Campers, however, redeemed themselves in the final half by sinking 20 of 35 shots for 57 per cent. Bel Air hooped 21 of 48 attempts from the field. Allegany sank 11 of 22 throws from the foul line to the Bobcats' 17-30.

Tonight's win was the fifth in a row for Coach Shaw's quint. When they tackle Northwestern here Saturday night they'll be striving to give the Campobello school its 12th state title. The Campers last won the state diadem in 1954. Montgomery Blair of Silver Spring was the 1955 class "A" winner.

The new regulation covering New Creek states that the stream will be closed to fishing the year-round from its mouth to the mouth of Stony Run. This is the only change in the New Creek fishing area for 1956.

The notice received by Rice is signed by Harry Van Meter, chief of the Division of Fish Management.

Santee Is Winner

CLEVELAND, March 16 — Wes Santee, running his best mile of the year, posted a four minute, 6.9 second time tonight in a special race at the Knights of Columbus annual indoor meet.

Santee's time was only nine-tenths of a second slower than the meet record, which he set here last year, and much better than 12 previous "special" races he has run since his court fight with the Amateur Athletic Union began.

Sports Grill Maxwell Leads In Pensacola Golf Tourney

By PAT ROBINSON
NEW YORK, March 16—(INS)—"Top of the mornin' to you, and what do you think of Hank Greenberg's suggestions for speeding up baseball games?"

Hank would give his Cleveland club $100 for every game played—and won—under two hours. Presumably if a game went into extra innings, the time would be taken at the end of the regulation nine frames.

Hank also would stick a clock somewhere up around the scoreboard so that the fans and umpires could see when a pitcher is taking too much time between pitches.

We like those suggestions but we have one of our own to offer. We suggest the sports writers take a vote any time there is an obvious and unnecessary delay of game, and if found guilty, the offending player, coach or manager—especially manager—be fined a stipulated sum.

It seems ridiculous to say that a high salaried ball player should be paid to hustle on his job, but if that is the only way the fans can get a little faster action, then we think Hank's plan is well advised.

After all, the cost would be comparatively little and might pay big dividends in goodwill and increased attendance.

Even a club which won 100 games would get only $10,000 at the end of the year and a tailender needn't have to kick in more than, say, $6,000. Of course, there would be nothing in the rules against a rich and successful club doubling or tripling the bonus.

We would be all for any system that would induce players to show just a little interest in the game by hustling on and off the field.

We also would be for anything that might cut down those interminable boring discussions between pitchers and catcher. That scoreboard clock might be a spur to pitchers who dawdle between pitches.

Probably the most provoking of all sights to the average fan is the lifting of pitchers. First there is a delay while the infielders talk to a pitcher going bad. Then a coach or manager walks slowly out to the mound. There is another long conference.

The manager or coach then ambles back to the dug-out. One more bad pitch and out he comes again for another long conference. Finally, he waves to the bullpen for a new pitcher.

At last, after a 10-minute delay play is resumed. One benefit of TV is you can shut off the set pending resumption of play, and visit the ice box.

Racial Issue Causes Cancellation Of Game

SHREVEPORT, La., March 16 (AP)—Negotiations for a football game here between the new Air Force Academy and Louisiana Tech broke down today because the academy could not guarantee its team would not include a Negro player.

Dr. R. L. Ropp, president of Louisiana Tech at Ruston, La., announced today his school had withdrawn from the negotiations.

He said the decision came after the Air Force Academy submitted a proposed contract stipulating that "no player of the U. S. Air Force Academy will be barred from participating in this game because of creed or race."

Negotiations for a game contract acceptable to the two schools and the Shreveport Football Stadium Commission had been under way since last fall.

Logart Wins Garden Bout

Cuban Welter Gets Nod Over Ortega

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Welterweight contender Isaac (Kid) Logart of Cuba chopped left Gaspar Ortega of Mexico down to his size tonight with left hooks to the body and head to win a unanimous 10-round decision at Madison Square Garden. Logart weighed 147½, Ortega 152.

A 5-1 favorite over the 20-year-old Mexican gamester, the slick Logart had to go all out to ruin Ortega's debut as a main eventer in the Garden and on national television.

The rangy Indian, game as they come took everything Logart had to offer and kept firing back to win the plaudits of the slim crowd of 1,000. A few booed the decision, in respect for Ortega's gameness, but there was no doubt about Logart's victory.

Referee Harry Kessler and Judge Arthur Aida each voted for Logart by 6-3-1. Judge Bill Recht had it 7-2-1 for Logart. The Associated Press had Logart in front, 7-3.

Duquesne Plays Oklahoma Quint In Garden Today

Iron Dukes, Aggies Clash In Afternoon

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—The oldest of the post-season basketball tournaments—the National Invitation—opens its 19th stand in Madison Square Garden tomorrow with a familiar cast and a few signs of reversion to the style of a early days.

The NIT, conceived by a group of New York basketball writers, originated in 1938, when the abolition of the center jump after each goal was a recent memory and when only a "racehorse" team could score 60 points in a game. There was a tremendous success from the start, when 14,497 spectators saw Temple beat Colorado 60-36 in the final.

Make Garden Debut

One of the first teams to play, Oklahoma A. and M., returns this year, bringing with it a defensive record that is reminiscent of the early tournament days. It will be the Aggies' fourth NIT but their first appearance in the Garden since the pre-scandal year of 1946. They won the National Collegiate title here that year.

During the past season, when the Eggies won 18 games and lost eight, they were the nation's second-best defensive team, limiting their opponents to 52.2 points a game. And there have been strong indications this year—particularly in the early rounds of the National Collegiate championship—that strong defense and ball possession are beginning to pay off again.

Four games among unseeded teams open the NIT program tomorrow. The winners meet the four seeded teams Monday and Tuesday, with the semifinals Thursday and the finals the following Saturday. For the first time, the finals will be played in the afternoon so they can be televised nationally. After an opening game between Lafayette and St. Francis of Brooklyn, defending champion Duquesne takes on Oklahoma A. and M. in a second afternoon contest. The Duquesne-Aggies game also will be televised nationally (CBS).

Inners Play Monday
Tomorrow night's doubleheader at Seton Hall against Marquette and St. Louis against Xavier of Cincinnati. The winners of the afternoon games will face Niagara and Louisville, respectively, on Monday night and the evening victors will play St. Joseph's of Philadelphia and Dayton on Tuesday.

Season records, which don't mean much when tournament play starts, now Dayton and Louisville on top, each with 23 victories and three defeats. Louisville beat Dayton twice this season.

Valley High Sweeps To 72-54 Triumph Over Arundel Quint

Knights Play Oxon Hill In State Finale

Robertson Gets 27, Piam 31; "B" Title Game 7:30 Tonight

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 16 — Valley High School of Lonaconing swept to an easy 72 to 54 victory over Arundel High School of Gambrills today at the University of Maryland and the triumph put the Allegheny countians in the finals of the state Class B basketball tournament.

Valley will play Oxon Hill High School of Prince Georges County in the championship game Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. Oxon Hill became a finalist today when it ushered out Cambridge High School of Dorchester county in the other Class B semi-final by the score of 57-49.

The Lonaconing quint, competing in the state tourney for the second straight season, was eliminated in the semi-final round a year ago by Cambridge, 59-39. The Eastern Shore aggregation went on to win the title.

Arundel Ahead Once

Arundel was ahead once—it sank the first basket. From there on Valley was the leader. Coach John Meyers' Black Knights held a 10-point lead at the quarter, 23-12, increased their advantage to 12 points at intermission, 38-26, and were out in front by 15 tallies when the third period ended, 59-44.

In the third period, Bert Piam, Arundel center, and the game's high scorer, meshed five consecutive shots from the field to put the Gambrills quint only six points in the rear at 48-42. Then Valley found the range reeled off nine points to boost its lead to 15 points at 57-42 with 15 seconds remaining. Capt. Robert "Coke" Robertson launched the rally with a field goal, Ronald "Butch" Young scored five points and intercepted a pass that resulted in another goal by Robertson.

John Johnson scored twice from the field and added a foul goal and Bill Dye meshed a fielder to up the Knights' advantage to 26 points at 70-44. With the game "in the bag" Coach Meyers cleared the bench. Sixteen Valley players saw action in the contest.

Robertson Scores 27

Capt. Robertson's sharpshooting accounted for 27 of the winners' points. He took 18 shots and hit the target 12 times for a 66.7 average. Young connected for 19 points, and Johnson contributed 12. Young converted 7 of 8 throws at the charity stripe. Piam was the "big gun" for Arundel with 13 goals in 27 shots for a 48.1 average and a total of 31 points to his credit. John Durner was the runner-up with 11 markers.

Francis Murphy, Arundel guard, was the only player to foul out. He made his exit in the final period.

The victory was the 19th in 24 outings for the Allegheny county quint this season. Arundel High suffered its fifth defeat against 16 wins. Lineups:

MIAMI, Fla., March 16 — Nashua will go for the world's money-winning record tomorrow in the mile and a quarter Gulfstream Park Handicap with six other stakes winners opposing him.

If Nashua wins top purse of $83,300 he will boost his total to $1,121,315 and wipe out the record held by Calumet Farm's Citation at $1,085,760 since 1951.

There have been rumors that if Nashua wins he may be retired to stud, but Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons said the Leslie Combs II colt is nominated for the Campbell Memorial Handicap in Maryland next month "and all the big handicaps this summer."

Some 32,000 fans are expected for the biggest feature in the track's 11-year history.

Columbia Broadcasting System will carry the feature from 5 to 5:30 p.m. (EST). Post time is 5:17 p.m.

Nashua drew No. 6 post position and was a solid 3 to 5 favorite despite a burdensome 129 pounds—highest impost of his career.

Jet Action Is 3-1

Opposing him will be Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action, rated 3 to 1 in the early line; Brookmeade Stable's Sailor, 6 to 1; Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Find 8 to 1; Sam Tufano's Wise Margin 20 to 1; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Markus' Mielux 20 to 1, and Prince Noor, purchased only last Saturday from Hasty House Farm by Mrs. Charles Silvers and Mrs. Paul Finkelstein.

Nashua will have his regular rider, Eddie Arcaro, and a victory would boost his total earnings to $1,121,315, pushing his past Calumet Farm's Citation who has held the record since 1951 with $1,085,760.

Jet Action, under 125 pounds with Willie Shoemaker up, could become the first horse to beat Nashua twice. Jet Action was second to Nashua in the Snyson Stakes last fall and Nashua was third—the only time Nashua was worse than second in 21 starts, with 17 wins.

Hartack On Sailor

Sailor, racing in the colors of Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, owner of Brookmeade, was third in the Widener. He will pack 119 pounds with Willie Hartack riding. Hartack led all jockeys last year with 417 victories.

The winner will get $83,300 net, with $15,000 for second, $7,000 to third, $4,000 fourth and $2,500 fifth.

Orioles Break Losing Streak

Win Over Cubs, 7-6, Miranda Slugs Ball

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 16 — The fine hitting of shortstop Willie Miranda helped the Baltimore Orioles edge the Chicago Cubs 7-6 today and end a six-game Cactus League losing streak.

Miranda, an excellent glove man who has never been much of a hitter, belted a triple, a double and a single and drove in three runs.

Hank Sauer and Bob Speake poked homers for the Cubs, who now have an exhibition record of three wins and four losses.

Cleveland Indians Seek Gus Triandos, Offer Four Players

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 16 — The Cleveland Indians were reported today to be offering four players for Gus Triandos, first baseman and catcher of the Baltimore Orioles.

The Baltimore News-Post said the Indians are offering fielder Rudy Regalado, catcher Hank Foiles, and Pitchers Art Houtteman and Jose Santiago.

"No deal unless they throw in a solid RBI hitter," commented Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles. "Then I might get interested."

Gulfstream Park Double Pays $767

MIAMI, Fla., March 16 — A 65 to 1 shot and 10 to 1 outsider completed a $767.30 daily double at Gulfstream Park today, third largest of the meeting. It was set up by Dark Embassy, which won the opener paying $132.90, $60.20 and $30.50, and molded in the second by Fast Dance, which returned $21.90, $8.50 and $6.20.

Dark Embassy, ridden by Gilbert Roser, accounted for the current raiser by a nose from Noble Faith, another longshot which paid $22.40 and $12.20. Gay Marvin was third, while Bold Man, odds-on, was unplaced in the field of twelve, his first setback of the winter. The time for the 6 furlongs was 1:11 2/5.

Fast Dance responded to Robert L. Stevenson's stout urging through the stretch and pulled two lengths clear of Oil Gusher. Bated Breath whipped nine others for the show money. The time was 1:11 4/5.

Knights Play Oxon Hill In State Finale

Robertson Gets 27, Piram 31; "B" Title Game 7:30 Tonight

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 16 — Valley High School of Lonaconing swept to an easy 72 to 54 victory over Arundel High School of Gambrills today at the University of Maryland and the triumph put the Allegheny county in the finals of the state Class B basketball tournament.

Valley will play Oxon Hill High School of Prince Georges County in the championship game Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. Oxon Hill became a finalist today when it ushered out Cambridge High School of Dorchester county in the other Class B semi-final by the score of 57-49.

The Lonaconing quint, competing in the state tourney for the second straight season, was eliminated in the semi-final round a year ago by Cambridge, 59-39. The Eastern Shore aggregation went on to win the title.

Arundel Ahead Once

Arundel was ahead once—it sank the first basket. From there on Valley was the leader. Coach John Meyers' Black Knights held a 10-point lead at the quarter, 23-12, increased their advantage to 12 points at intermission, 38-26, and were out in front by 15 tallies when the third period ended, 59-44.

In the third period, Bert Piram, Arundel center, and the game's highest scorer, meshed five consecutive shots from the field to put the Gambrills quint only six points in the rear at 48-42. Then Valley found the range reeled off nine points to boost its lead to 15 points at 57-42 with 15 seconds remaining. Capt. Robert "Coke" Robertson launched the rally with a field goal, Ronald "Butch" Young scored five points and intercepted a pass that resulted in another goal by Robertson.

Opposes Six Other Stakes Winners In Gulfstream Event

MIAMI, Fla., March 16 — Nashua will go for the world's moneywinning record tomorrow in the mile and a quarter Gulfstream Park Handicap with six other stakes winners opposing him.

If Nashua wins top purse of $83,300 he will boost his total to $1,121,315 and wipe out the record held by Calumet Farm's Citation at $1,085,760 since 1951.

There have been rumors that if Nashua wins he may be retired to stud, but Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons said the Leslie Combs II colt is nominated for the Campbell Memorial Handicap in Maryland next month "and all the big handicaps this summer."

Some $2,000 fans are expected for the biggest feature in the track's 11-year history.

Columbia Broadcasting System will carry the feature from 5 to 5:30 p.m. (EST). Post time is 5:17 p.m.

Nashua drew No. 6 post position and was a solid 3 to 5 favorite despite a burdensome 129 pounds—highest impost of his career.

Jet Action is 3-1.

Opposing him will be Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action, rated 3 to 1 in the early line.

Brookmeade Stable's Sailor, 6 to 1; Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Find 8 to 1; Sam Tufano's Wise Margin 20 to 1; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Markus' Mielieux 20 to 1, and Prince Noor, purchased only last Saturday from Hasty House Farm by Mrs. Charles Silvers and Mrs. Saul Finkelstein.

Nashua will have his regular rider, Eddie Arcaro, and a victory would boost his total earnings to $1,121,315, pushing his past Calumet Farm's Citation who has held the record since 1951 with $1,085,760.

Jet Action, under 125 pounds with Willie Shoemaker up, could become the first horse to beat Nashua twice. Jet Action was second to High Gun in the Synony Stakes last fall and Nashua was third—the only time Nashua was worse than second in 21 starts, with 17 wins.

Hartack On Sailor
Sailor, racing in the colors of Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, owner of Brookmeade, was third in the Widener. He will pack 119 pounds with Willie Hartack riding. Hartack led all jockeys last year with 417 victories.

The winner will get $83,300 net, with $15,000 for second, $7,000 to third, $4,000 fourth and $2,500 fifth.

Orioles Break Losing Streak

Win Over Cubs, 7-6, Miranda Slugs Ball

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 16 — The fine hitting of shortstop Willie Miranda helped the Chicago Cubs 7-6 today and end a six-game Cactus League losing streak.

Miranda, an excellent glove man who has never been much of a hitter, belted a triple, a double and a single and drove in three runs.

Hank Sauer and Bob Speake poked homers for the Cubs, who now have an exhibition record of three wins and four losses.

Cleveland Indians Seek Gus Triandos, Offer Four Players

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 16 — The Cleveland Indians were reported today to be offering four players for Gus Triandos, first baseman and catcher of the Baltimore Orioles.

The Baltimore News-Post said the Indians are offering fielder Rudy Regalado, catcher Hank Foles, and Pitchers Art Houtteman and Jose Santiago.

"No deal unless they throw in a solid RBI hitter," commented Manager Paul Richards of the Orioles. "Then I might get interested."

Gulfstream Park Double Pays $767

MIAMI, Fla., March 16 — A 65 to 1 shot and 10 to 1 outsider completed a $767.30 daily double at Gulfstream Park today, third largest of the meeting. It was set up by Dark Embassy, which won the opener paying $132.90, $60.20 and $30.50, and molded in the second by Fast Dance, which returned $21.90, $8.50 and $6.20.

Dark Embassy, ridden by Gilbert Roser, accounted for the current raiser by a nose from Noble Faith, another longshot which paid $22.40 and $12.20. Gay Marvin was third, while Bold Man, odds-on, was unplaced in the field of twelve, his first setback of the winter. The time for the 6 furlongs was 1:11 2/5.

Fast Dance responded to Robert L. Stevenson's stout urging through the stretch and pulled two lengths clear of Oil Gusher. Bated Breath whipped nine others for the show money. The time was 1:11 4/5.

Test Plot Proves To Be Successful

OAKLAND—The mountain tableland of Garrett County, which has cool nights during the summer (and the winter, too), may be the producer of another cool weather crop—cucumbers.

The results of a test plot of 13 acres on the farm of J. Edward Helbig near Deer Park have encouraged the C. C. Lang and Sons Company of Baltimore to interest more farmers in raising this crop.

Helbig pointed out that while the short growing season does not allow big cucumbers, it does produce a solid crop of excellent quality.

Cool nights are required for top grade cucumbers, Helbig explained.

Helbig said his test crop last summer was judged as good or better than any purchased by the company which has growers in North and South Carolinas, Florida, Eastern Shore, Michigan and Georgia.

The 13 acres produced 2,800 bushels for brine purposes. Many bushels were given away and others rotted in the field when it was impossible to gather them, Helbig pointed out.

The 2,800 bushels consigned to the Lang firm were kept in salt brine in 350-bushel and 750-bushel tubs.

All but 350 bushels have been taken to Baltimore and processed. The 350 bushels are being kept to see how they cure, Helbig added.

Helbig said the Lang firm is interested in getting under contract from two to five hundred acres.

The company is suggesting individual plots of from one-half acre to two to three acres, or as much as the farm family can cultivate successfully.

The Lang firm gives the grower a contract price and purchases all the cucumbers that can be produced.

Tuesday night about 35 farmers met with representatives of the company in the Oakland Fire Hall and Wednesday another group appeared in the Accident Fire Hall.

This is not the first cool weather produce to be grown on a commercial scale in Garrett County.

Several years ago peas were grown and raised in the Cove section. For the past three years, farmers have been marketing cauliflower. However, last year's crop was not so good because of a couple of hot spells.

Recital Set For Dedication

HYNDMAN — The Hyndman Methodist Church will dedicate their pipe organ, Sunday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

The forty-five year old organ has been completely rebuilt. It is a two-manual instrument of 12 stops, 337 pipes. The organ is composed of three divisions, the Swell, the Great and the Pedal. The console which represents the control center, having hundreds of silver contacts, is new.

Party Candidates Are Unopposed

By JACK LYNCH

BEDFORD, Pa. (P)—As far as Congressional nominees and delegates candidates are concerned, it's strictly no contest at the April 24 primary for both Republican and Democrats in the 18th district.

Richard M. Simpson of Huntingdon, dean of Pennsylvania's Republican delegation in congress, is unopposed at the primary. The 55-year-old lawyer seeks his tenth consecutive two-year term in the House.

Also unopposed is Ross E. Hershberger of Bedford, the Democratic choice for the congress nomination.

A 42-year-old accountant, Hershberger is seeking his first elective office, although he has been active in politics since 1934 when he joined the Young Democrats.

Republicans hold a voting registration majority of more than 35,000 over the Democrats in the 18th District, composed of Bedford, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Snyder, Somerset and Union Counties.

Despite this, Democratic leaders feel they have a better opportunity to beat Simpson this year than ever before. They point out that while Simpson had a 32,000 majority in the 1952 election on the Eisenhower ticket, that margin dropped to little more than 12,000 in 1954.

Both Republican and Democratic delegate slates for the summer nominating conventions are unopposed. Leaders of both parties in each of the eight counties selected candidates at caucuses last summer.

Democratic choices for four convention seats are J. Warren Mickle of Bedford, state party committee treasurer; Horace J. Culbertson of Lewistown, Ross E. Hershberger, congressional nominee; and Frank Bohn of Blue Ridge Summit, Franklin County.

The Republican ticket for delegates (two to be selected) is made up of William S. Livengood of Somerset, former state secretary of internal affairs, and Paul Walker, a Chambersburg contractor.

Test Plot Proves To Be Successful

OAKLAND—The mountain tableland of Garrett County, which has cool nights during the summer (and the winter, too), may be the producer of another cool weather crop—cucumbers.

The results of a test plot of 13 acres on the farm of J. Edward Helbig near Deer Park have encouraged the C. C. Lang and Sons Company of Baltimore to interest more farmers in raising this crop. Helbig pointed out that while the short growing season does not allow big cucumbers, it does produce a solid crop of excellent quality.

Cool nights are required for top grade cucumbers, Helbig explained.

Helbig said his test crop last summer was judged as good or better than any purchased by the company which has growers in North and South Carolinas, Florida, Eastern Shore, Michigan and Georgia.

The 13 acres produced 2,800 bushels for brine purposes. Many bushels were given away and others rotted in the field when it was impossible to gather them, Helbig pointed out.

The 2,800 bushels consigned to the Lang firm were kept in salt brine in 350-bushel and 750-bushel tubs.

All but 350 bushels have been taken to Baltimore and processed. The 350 bushels are being kept to see how they cure, Helbig added.

Helbig said the Lang firm is interested in getting under contract from two to five hundred acres.

The company is suggesting individual plots of from one-half acre to two to three acres, or as much as the farm family can cultivate successfully.

The Lang firm gives the grower a contract price and purchases all the cucumbers that can be produced.

Tuesday night about 35 farmers met with representatives of the company in the Oakland Fire Hall and Wednesday another group appeared in the Accident Fire Hall.

This is not the first cool weather produce to be grown on a commercial scale in Garrett County. Several years ago peas were grown and raised in the Cove section. For the past three years, farmers have been marketing cauliflower. However, last year's crop was not so good because of a couple of hot spells.

Program May Be Curtailed

FROSTBURG—The effort to obtain a small, but far below average, budget for the Cub Scout and Boy Scout movement in the Frostburg district of Potomac Council, BSA, is falling far below its established goal, officials of Potomac Council claim.

Dr. Adam Baer, campaign chairman for the Frostburg district, has informed James C. Warden, this city, council president, that it appears the drive will hit about the $1,500 mark.

The council has set up a budget of $2,878 to operate Scouting in Frostburg, Mt. Savage, Midland, Barton, Grantsville and their respective vicinities.

Similar budgets have been set up in other districts of the six-county council based on the amount of participation in Scouting in the districts.

Other district finance committees are getting much better results than Frostburg, Warden commented.

The executive board is getting concerned about the Frostburg situation and feels something must be done to save Scouting in Frostburg, he added.

The cost per boy each year in the Frostburg district, and in the other districts of Potomac Council is a little less than $10.

A check of councils in Region 3, BSA, which covers four states, shows that the cost per boy per year ranges from $14 to $21.

There are 285 boys active in Scouting in the Frostburg district, three Cub packs with 105 members, seven Boy Scout troops with 171 members and one Explorer post with 14 youths participating.

In commenting on the council administration, Warden pointed out that Potomac Council had the highest average of boys attending camp in Region 3.

Camp Potomac is a non-profit affair with the cost to the boy just covering his expenses. Her again, Potomac Council has one of the lowest camping fees in the four-state region.

These and the many other activities such as training leaders, conducting a full, year-round program require professional administration.

And each district in the council must furnish its per capita share in the cost by district, Warden declared.

He appealed to the many workers in the service clubs and other organizations in the Frostburg-Grantsville - Mt. Savage - Midland area to check their lists of contacts again and make a full coverage.

Failure of this drive could possibly mean a supplemental campaign later on in the year, Warden added.

The executive board feels that in face of the extreme low cost of operating the council program it is regrettable that this district cannot meet its requirements, Warden concluded.

Stock Market Gives Some Ground After Record Marks

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—The stock market gave up a limited amount of ground today after streaking to record peaks in five out of the past six sessions.

While profit taking clipped a swath through some divisions, a strong afternoon advance by copper almost pushed the market to new heights.

Losses generally were under 2 points. On the other hand, gains of 1 to 4 were frequent among copper, oil, and a substantial number of special situations.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 10 cents to $188.50, and volume amounted to 3,120,000 shares.

Traders again scanned an abundance of encouraging business news. The government reported that industrial output and home building moved upward in February. And the presidents of National Steel and Pittsburgh Steel came up with glowing forecasts for 1956.

Rhodesian Copper was the most active stock up 3/4 at 7 1/2 on volume of 75,900 shares. Studebaker-Packard was next, off 1/2 at 8 3/4 on 55,300 shares. Near the close Studebaker reported a net loss of almost $30 million dollars for 1955.

Anaconda Co. was third in the list, up 4/4 at 85 1/2 on 54,100 shares. Others in the "top 15" most active included such gainers as Royal Dutch up 1 1/2 at 91 1/2, Pittsburgh Steel 1 1/2 at 31 1/2, and Standard Oil (New Jersey) "when issued" 1 1/2 at 56 1/2.

Higher also were Standard Oil (New Jersey) "old" up 3/4 at 168 1/2, U.S. Gypsum 2 1/4 at 68, International Paper 1 1/4 at 127, Combustion Engineering 1 1/4 at 82 1/2, Campbell Wyant 3 at 44 1/2, Magma Copper 3 1/4 at 136 1/2, Phelps Dodge 1 1/4 at 74, Lukens Steel 3 1/2 at 64 1/2, Aluminum Co. of America 1 1/4 at 99 1/2, Anaconda Wire 9 cable 6 at 77 1/2.

Lower were Zenith Radio off 3/4 at 133 1/2, Mack 1 at 31, Kennecott Copper 1 at 145 1/2, DuPont 1 1/2 at 231 1/2, Santa Fe 1 1/2 at 157 1/2, Bethlehem 3/4 at 160 1/2 and Youngstown Sheet 1/2 at 97 1/2.

Stock Market Gives Some Ground After Record Marks

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—The stock market gave up a limited amount of ground today after streaking to record peaks in five out of the past six sessions.

While profit taking clipped a swath through some divisions, a strong afternoon advance by copper pushed the market to new heights.

Losses generally were under 2 points. On the other hand, gains of 1 to 4 were frequent among copper, oils, and a substantial number of special situations.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 10 cents to $188.50, and volume amounted to 3,120,000 shares.

Traders again scanned an abundance of encouraging business news. The government reported that industrial output and home building moved upward in February. And the presidents of National Steel and Pittsburgh Steel came up with glowing forecasts for 1956.

Rhodesian Copper was the most active stock up 3/4 at 74 on volume of 75,000 shares. Studebaker-Packard was next, off 1/2 at 83 1/2 on 55,300 shares. Near the close Studebaker reported a net loss of almost $30 million dollars for 1955.

Anacoda Co. was third in the list, up 1/4 at 85 1/2 on 54,100 shares. Others in the "top 15" most active included such gainers as Royal Dutch up 1/2 at 91 1/2, Pittsburgh Steel 1 1/2 at 31 1/2, and Standard Oil (New Jersey) "when issued" 1 1/2 at 56 1/2.

Higher also were Standard Oil (New Jersey) "old" up 3/4 at 168 1/2, U.S. Gypsum 2 1/4 at 127, International Paper 1 1/4 at 67, Combustion Engineering 1 1/4 at 82 1/2, Campbell Wyant 3 at 44 1/2, Magma Copper 3/4 at 136 1/2, Phelps Dodge 1 1/2 at 74, Lukens Steel 3/4 at 64 1/2, Aluminum Co. of America 1 1/2 at 99 1/2, Anaconda Wire 9 cable 6 at 77 1/2.

Lower were Zenith Radio off 3/4 at 133 1/2, Mack 1 at 31, Kennecott Copper 1 at 145 1/2, DuPont 1 1/4 at 23 1/2, Santa Fe 1 1/2 at 157 1/2, Bethlehem 3/4 at 160 1/2, and Youngstown Sheet 1/2 at 97 1/2.

frame the Constitution. The White House was designed by an Irishman, architect James Hoban. Seven presidents of Irish or partly Irish descent later lived there: Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Arthur, McKinley, Wilson and Truman. The quest of religious freedom is emphasized in the religious background and affiliation of these presidents with Irish ancestors. Truman is a Baptist. Wilson, Jackson and Buchanan were Presbyterians. McKinley and Polk were Methodists. Arthur was an Episcopalian.

In 1846, when the potato crop failed, the United States saw another great wave of immigrants coming from Ireland to escape the famine. In ten years, from about 1850 to 1860, records show that nearly a million (914,119) arrived here. At the end of that century, during the Irish Land War, the tide surged once more.

The influence of Ireland in this country has spread and continues to spread. The Irish people boast to many gifted persons, such as Victor Herbert and John McCormack; the inventors Morse, Fulton and McCormick; industrialists Cudahy and Mellon; and many others.

America owes much to these early Irishers, whether they be Catholic, Presbyterian or of some other faith, or whether they came here to escape oppression, tyranny or famine. It isn't likely that St. Patrick planned it this way, but the wearin' o' the green has become almost as much an American custom as it is an Irish tradition. And why not, when the odds are that the next guy you meet may be an Irish-American, even if you happen to be looking in a mirror?

Today is a great day for ALL the Irish.

A HUMILIATING EXPERIENCE

ANYONE can be defeated by a bad break, but it is a little humiliating (to say nothing about the expense) to be thrown off-stride by a fortunate fall of cards. That was South's experience in the following deal.

North dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South 60 on score.

The bidding:
North East South West
1 ♣ Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♣ Pass

Many sticklers for "science at any cost" would answer North's one-club opening with one heart on the South cards, but the actual one-trump response was considerably more logical at the 60 score. One nortrup would be enough for game if the opponents much harder (and more dangerous) for the enemy to compete against one nortrup than against one heart.

West opened his fourth-highest diamond. South hoped that the lead was from the Q-J and so played low from dummy, but when the queen appeared, South saw no good reason to hold up his king, so he took the trick. (He did not want East to shift to spades.)

South then tried the only plan that offered any reasonable hope: he led a low club and put in dummy's ten. When that card held, he felt a little better, but of course he did not know that the queen was going to fall, so he now made a rather desperate effort to develop a heart trick. On the heart lead from dummy, East won with the blank king and returned a diamond. Now South was in trouble—he could neither establish a heart nor get his full quota of club tricks, and so he went down one.

South was unduly optimistic to try for a heart trick. His only substantial chance, after the club ten held, was to cash the club king. Then he could lead to the club jack, return to the diamond ace and cash dummy's club ace. The spade ace would be the fulfill-

Four-Inch Snow Blankets City As Spring Nears

Oakland Reports Eight-Inch Fall

A wild storm combining snow, sleet and rain struck the Tri-State area yesterday in what weather observers hope may be winter's last gasp.

Spring officially starts at 10:21 a. m. Tuesday but the weather sometimes does not respect the calendar.

Although driving was hazardous throughout the area only one serious accident was reported up to late last night. Two young men from Gorman, W. Va., were injured about 4 a. m. yesterday when the lumber truck in which they were riding toward Uniontown, Pa., skidded and hit a beam on the bridge carrying U. S. Route 219 across Deep Creek Lake about 11 miles north of Oakland.

Both Hospitalized

The two men were admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital after having been pinned in the cab about two hours but they were both reported in "fair" condition last night by their attending physician.

Daley Uphold, 21, the truck driver, sustained multiple lacerations and contusions. William Randolph Fishel, 22, who was riding in the truck, was admitted to the hospital for observation and contusions. Fishel is expected to be discharged from the hospital today but Uphold is likely to remain several days longer.

State Tfc. Robert D. Henline, stationed at Oakland, investigated the crash.

In another accident yesterday, Mrs. Marjorie Steward, 32, of Springfield, W. Va., injured her left shoulder in a crash involving an automobile and a truck on West Virginia State Route 28 between Springfield and Fort Ashby. Details were not available last night but Mrs. Steward was reported in "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital.

Robert Lee Whitehair, a sailor stationed at Norfolk, Va., sustained a laceration on the top of his head when the car he was driving west on U. S. Route 50 about nine miles from Keyser struck a loaded school bus. State Police Cpl. Evan Moody said none of the 43 to 50 passengers in the bus was injured. Whitehair, who was headed toward his home in the Clarksburg area, was charged with failure to drive on the right side of the road.

Eight Inches At Oakland

Snowfall ranged from three to eight inches (at Oakland) with 4.1 inches being measured by Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park. He said melted precipitation for the day totaled .62 inches. That included rain, sleet and snow. There was little variation in temperature during the day, ranging only from a low of 29 degrees to a high of 32 degrees.

G. Baires Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, reported last night that it had been snowing in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties since early in the morning. SRC crews gave up chindering last night and concentrated on plowing all roads.

Milder weather appears in store for the area today. The prediction calls for partly cloudy weather with a high between 45 and 50 degrees.

Telephone officials were keeping a close watch on the storm.

Ice On Wires

Kitzmiller was a danger spot in mid afternoon as ice began to form on wires.

C. Walter Haschert, local manager, said no trouble was anticipated unless a freezing rain hit the area.

It was a "pretty miserable" situation, Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz reported early last night as high winds hit the city.

He said the blizzard-like snowstorm which arrived with the wind were accompanied by a slight drop in the temperature which was freezing the slush on the streets.

The street crews, he said, were all kept on duty and were doing their best to keep traffic moving. Buchholtz said the men have been scattering salt and doling out a limited supply of cinders on hilly spots.

The situation began to get nasty about 3 p. m., he said.

740 Acres Leased For Oil And Gas

The Columbia Carbon Company has leased 740 acres of land in the Green Ridge State Forest area for possible oil and natural gas development.

The lease, under which the company agrees to pay A. L. Fangel, Country Club, 24 Park Avenue, Bronxville, N. Y., $1 an acre per year, was filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Bodin, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court. The leased area is bounded on the east and south by the Potomac River and on the west by Green Ridge State Forest.

Spring's Just Around The Corner

Although spring arrives next Tuesday, winter made a last-minute grab at Western Maryland yesterday, dumping four inches of snow on Cumberland, and even more in some mountainous areas. The scene above, at Louisiana and Montgomery avenues, was only one of many pretty settings in town as the wet snow clung to tree branches, rooftops and—oh yes, sidewalks.

St. Pat's Day Has Become American As Irish Potato

By F. ALLAN WEA THERHOLT
News Staff Writer

Today is St. Patrick's Day, and many sons and daughters of Ireland, though several times removed, will go forth "wearin' the green." In fact, there are so many Americans with a tint of Irish blood in their veins, that Uncle Sam himself could add a sprig of green to his traditional red, white and blue costume, and join Harrigan, McDougal and Mulrooney in singing the praises of the Irish this day.

March Surplus Food Is Given 1,156 Families

Several tons of surplus food commodities were distributed this week to 1,156 families of 3,806 people in five Allegany County towns, completing half of the March allotment. Walker Chapman, county road supervisor who has charge of the program for the County Commissioners, said the remainder of the distribution will be made next week.

Trucks will be at Clarysville Monday from 9 a. m. until noon, Tuesday at Mt. Savage the same hours, Wednesday at Cresaptown also the same time, and at Cumberland on Thursday and Friday at the county garage from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m. both days.

The distribution this week included 135 families of 444 people at Westport receiving 620 pounds of butter, 468 pounds of cheese, 706 pounds of milk, 483 pounds of lard, 1,570 pounds of cornmeal, and 918 pounds of pork and gravy.

Bids On Flood Control Job To Be Due April 12

Bridges, Channel Work Is Included

Bids for Section IV of the Wills Creek Channel section of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection program will be opened at 2 p. m. on April 12 in the Washington office of the Corps of Engineers.

Invitations to bid on the contract were issued as of March 15, according to plans and specifications forwarded to the City of Cumberland.

The work is listed as a Class D contract, which means that estimates of cost range between $1-$3 million.

It is the last contract to be let on the swift water plan adopted by the Corps of Engineers to tame the "spring freshets" which have periodically flooded the Queen City.

The job will include the grading of 2,902 feet of the creek channel, including paving from 300 feet below the Market Street Bridge to 300 feet below the Baltimore Street span.

Two new bridges are included—the Baltimore Street Bridge and the Western Maryland Railway bridge across the creek at Baltimore Street.

Two temporary spans are also to be built—a wooden traffic span just downstream of the present bridge, and a temporary railroad trestle to be located between the present tracks and adjacent buildings.

An existing sanitary sewer near the mouth of the creek is to be replaced and a storm siphon will be constructed and fed into the locks of the C&O Canal.

Ike For President Dinner Is Planned Here On April 6

An Eisenhower for President dinner will be held here on Friday, April 6, according to James S. Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County.

He said the date was set yesterday following a telegram from Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, who is securing the speaker for the rally.

Getty said the speaker definitely will be a member of President Eisenhower's cabinet.

The exact time and place of the dinner, which will be held under the sponsorship of the State Central Committee, have not yet been set.

Getty said the committee anticipated an attendance of about 300.

Disastrous '36 Flood Was 20 Years Ago Today

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

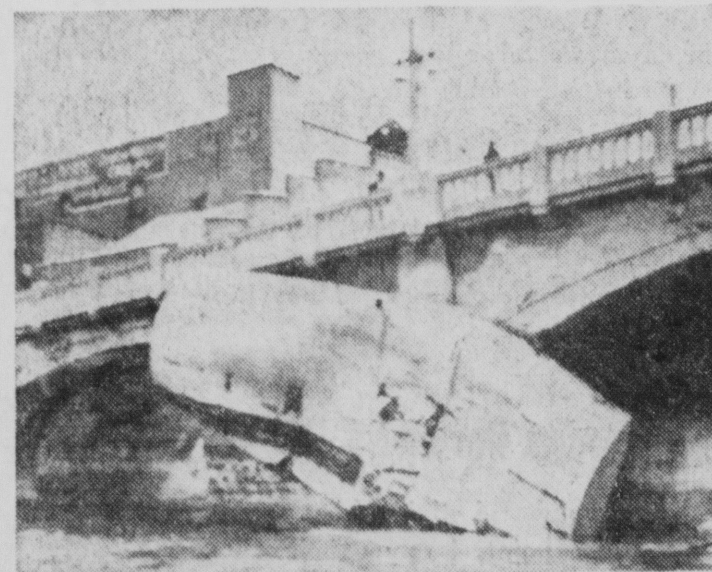

On St. Patrick's Day 20 years ago today, one of the most disastrous floods of the century swept through Cumberland and area and along the Eastern Seaboard, leaving heavy property damage, mud and debris in its wake.

Local residents vividly recall the murky waters which inched their way into the city as swollen Wills Creek, now being tamed with flood control work, left its banks, and water from the Potomac River went on a rampage.

Headlines read by Cumberlanders on March 17, 1936 shouted: "Flood Waters Overspread City," "Wills Creek Becomes a Raging Torrent," "River Swelling Fast," and "Cellars of Homes Are Flooded."

On the following day as the waters receded to normal flow, residents began digging out from under the debris and mud. Early estimates of damage in the Queen City were set at $3,000,000.

At 3 p. m. on March 17 the flood waters were seeping toward the business section of Cumberland and water on Baltimore Street was curbing high. Businessmen were busy boarding up windows and placing sandbag barriers. Within hours the water was second-story-high. Transportation ended in a standstill as trains and buses were put out of operation. National Guardsmen patrolled the streets as the water rose. Georges Creek was hard hit as the waters overflowed the banks of that creek and covered the towns and communities along the way.

Within 24 hours some 2½ inches of rain had fallen and on the afternoon of St. Patrick's Day it was still falling. The Potomac River rose from 7.45 feet to 14.56 feet within hours and was rising at the rate of a foot an hour.

The river had risen some five feet in three hours on March 17, 1936.

Garrett Board Members Must Answer Charges

Complaints Also Must Be Separated

Chief Judge George Henderson ruled yesterday in Garrett County Circuit Court that two members of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners and William Webb DeWitt, county roads engineer, must answer charges placed against them by Irvin Roth, the third county commissioner.

However, Judge Henderson also decided that Roth must file amended bills of complaint separating the charges placed against the two commissioners and those against the roads engineer.

The court action yesterday was a hearing on the demurrer to Roth's petition.

The defendant commissioners are Harvey D. Swartzentruber, board president, and Aubrey C. Brenneman, vice president. Brenneman is engaged in the drilling and plumbing business in Oakland and Swartzentruber is a merchant.

Roth stated in his complaint filed February 20 in the court in Oakland that the county board owns a rock quarry known as Bishop's Quarry near Sang Run, from which stone for use on county roads is obtained. It is necessary for heavy drilling of holes to shoot the stone with explosives.

The bill of complaint alleges that without Roth's knowledge and without official action or approval and records in the minutes, the defendants entered into a contract with Brenneman's firm to drill the holes at $2 per foot. It also is charged that DeWitt illegally paid a total of $15,197.81 to the firm in 1955.

Roth also contends that several months after payment had been made to Brenneman the vouchers were illegally approved. He said two vouchers were signed by him inadvertently and in ignorance of the law and certain facts in the situation.

In compliance with Judge Henderson's ruling, Horace P. Whitworth Jr. and Horace P. Whitworth Sr., Westernport, Roth's attorneys, will file new bills of complaint early next week. One complaint will charge the two commissioners with illegally doing business with themselves. The other will charge DeWitt with illegally making the payments. The two cases then will be tried separately.

Attorneys for the defendants were Walter W. Dawson and W. Dwight Stover, both of Oakland, and William A. Gunter, this city.

Workshop For Parents Scheduled

Dr. Gerthron Morgan of the Child Study Institute at the University of Maryland will be consultant at the second workshop in parent discussion group leadership for the school year, to be held Wednesday, April 11, at West Side School.

Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county public schools, announced that the program will get under way at 10 a. m. and will end promptly at 3 p. m. Luncheon will be served in the school cafeteria.

The morning program will consist of a lecture and a discussion period under the leadership of the consultant. The topic to be discussed will be in the socialization area of human development and will cover the inter-acting types of factors which constitute personality. Emphasis will be placed on the cultural factor in personality development.

School principals as well as parents are urged to attend the workshop. Each principal has been asked to notify Higgins on or before Friday, March 23, the number of persons from their respective areas who will attend.

Ignore Central Group's Choice, Demos Urged

Tydings Man Tells Voters To 'Feel Free'

LAPLATA, Md., March 16 (AP)—James C. Mitchell, LaPlata lawyer and head of a Tydings-for-Senate group in Charles County, called on the county's Democrats today to "feel free" to vote as they please.

Mitchell made the statement as Millard E. Tydings brought his Senate primary campaign to this Southern Maryland county, whose Democratic State Central Committee has endorsed George P. Mahoney for the nomination.

Mitchell, son of former Maryland Senate President Walter Mitchell, said in a statement Tydings "is head and shoulders above the other candidates."

"All of you are aware of the fact that four members of the fact-man State Central Committee endorsed the candidacy of George P. Mahoney several weeks before Mr. Tydings entered the race, stating that the principal reason for doing so was to head off a primary," said Mitchell.

"But Mr. Tydings has many friends and admirers in Charles County and it will be our purpose to organize that support to best advantage."

"I do not feel that this group should be considered an 'anti-organization' in the generally accepted sense of that term. I did not participate in the deliberations out of which the Mahoney endorsement came and for that reason I do not feel bound by it."

"There are countless other organizations Democrats who should feel free to vote for the candidate they consider best qualified for the job in this senatorial race."

In his three previous tries for statewide office, Mahoney lost the county's three nominating unit votes to William P. Lane Jr. by 1,293 to 788 in the 1950 gubernatorial primary, to Lansdale G. Sasser by 1,281 to 702 in the 1952 senate primary, and to H. C. Byrd by 1,425 to 1,200 in the 1954 gubernatorial primary.

Four-Inch Snow Blankets City As Spring Nears

Oakland Reports Eight-Inch Fall

A wild storm combining snow, sleet and rain struck the Tri-State area yesterday in what weather observers hope may be winter's last gasp.

Spring officially starts at 10:21 a. m. Tuesday but the weather sometimes does not respect the calendar.

Although driving was hazardous throughout the area only one serious accident was reported up to late last night. Two young men from Gorman, W. Va., were injured about 4 a. m. yesterday when the lumber truck in which they were riding toward Uniontown, Pa. skidded and hit a beam on the bridge carrying U. S. Route 219 across Deep Creek Lake about 11 miles north of Oakland.

Both Hospitalized

The two men were admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital after having been pinned in the cab about two hours but they were both reported in "fair" condition last night by their attending physician.

Daley Uphold, 21, the truck driver, sustained multiple lacerations and contusions. William Randolph Fishel, 22, who was riding in the truck, was admitted to the hospital for observation and contusions. Fishel is expected to be discharged from the hospital today but Uphold is likely to remain several days longer.

State Tfc. Robert D. Henline, stationed at Oakland, investigated the crash.

In another accident yesterday, Mrs. Marjorie Stewart, 32, of Springfield, W. Va., injured her left shoulder in a crash involving an automobile and a truck on West Virginia State Route 28 between Springfield and Fort Ashby. Details were not available last night but Mrs. Stewart was reported in "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital.

Robert Lee Whitehair, a sailor stationed at Norfolk, Va., sustained a laceration on the top of his head when the car he was driving west on U. S. Route 50 about nine miles from Keyser struck a loaded school bus. State Police Cpl. Evan Moody said none of the 43 to 50 passengers in the bus was injured. Whitehair, who was headed toward his home in the Clarksburg area, was charged with failure to drive on the right side of the road.

Eight Inches At Oakland

Snowfall ranged from three to eight inches (at Oakland) with 4.1 inches being measured by Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park. He said melted precipitation for the day totaled .62 inches. That included rain, sleet and snow. There was little variation in temperature during the day, ranging only from a low of 29 degrees to a high of 32 degrees.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, reported last night that it had been snowing in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties since early in the morning. SRC crews gave up cinder last night and concentrated on plowing all roads.

Milder weather appears in store for the area today. The prediction calls for partly cloudy weather with a high between 45 and 50 degrees.

Telephone officials were keeping a close watch on the storm.

Ice On Wires

Kitzmiller was a danger spot in mid afternoon as ice began to form on wires.

C. Walter Haschert, local manager, said no trouble was anticipated unless a freezing rain hit the area.

It was a "pretty miserable" situation, Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz reported early last night as high winds hit the city.

He said the blizzard-like snowstorm which arrived with the wind were accompanied by a slight drop in the temperature which was freezing the slush on the streets.

The street crews, he said, were all kept on duty and were doing their best to keep traffic moving.

Buchholtz said the men have been scattering salt and doling out a limited supply of cinders on hilly spots.

The situation began to get nasty about 3 p. m., he said.

740 Acres Leased For Oil And Gas

Bodin, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court. The leased area is bounded on the east and south by the Potomac River and on the west by Green Ridge State Forest.

Spring's Just Around The Corner

Although spring arrives next Tuesday, winter made a last-minute grab at Western Maryland yesterday, dumping four inches of snow on Cumberland, and even more in some mountainous areas. The scene above, at Louisiana and Montgomery avenues, was only one of many pretty settings in tree branches, rooftops and—oh yes, sidewalks.

St. Pat's Day Has Become American As Irish Potato

By F. ALLAN WEA THERHOLT
News Staff Writer

Today is St. Patrick's Day, and many sons and daughters of Ireland, though several times removed, will go forth "wearin' the green." In fact, there are so many Americans with a tint of Irish blood in their veins, that Uncle Sam himself could add a sprig of green to his traditional red, white and blue costume, and join Harrigan, McDougal and Mulrooney in singing the praises of the Irish this day.

Two Convicted On Idle Pay

Two county men were found guilty in Trial Magistrates Court here yesterday of obtaining money from the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Division while employed.

Fines and jail sentences were imposed by Magistrate J. Milton Dick on James H. Richardson, Frostburg, and Elijah J. Friend, Route 4, but were suspended on condition restitution is made for the amount due the state.

James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, said both men reported the "bills were piling up and they needed money."

Richardson, who had taken a job with a coal company, was fined $100 and sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. The sentence was suspended on condition he make restitution to the State's Attorney's Office of $47 within two weeks.

Friend, who had been working at a service station while drawing idle pay, was fined $50 and ordered jailed for 30 days—both of which were suspended on condition he pay back $24 within 90 days.

Bids On Flood Control Job To Be Due April 12

Bridges, Channel Work Is Included

Bids for Section IV of the Wills Creek Channel section of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection program will be opened at 2 p. m. on April 12 in the Washington office of the Corps of Engineers.

Invitations to bid on the contract were issued as of March 15, according to plans and specifications forwarded to the City of Cumberland.

The work is listed as a Class D contract, which means that estimates of cost range between $1-$3 million.

It is the last contract to be let on the swift water plan adopted by the Corps of Engineers to tame the "spring freshets" which have periodically flooded the Queen City.

The job will include the grading of 2,002 feet of the creek channel, including paving from 300 feet below the Market Street Bridge to 300 feet below the Baltimore Street span.

Two new bridges are included—the Baltimore Street Bridge and the Western Maryland Railway bridge across the creek at Baltimore Street.

Two temporary spans are also to be built—a wooden traffic span just downstream of the present bridge, and a temporary railroad trestle to be located between the present tracks and adjacent buildings.

An existing sanitary sewer near the mouth of the creek is to be replaced and a storm siphon will be constructed and fed into the locks of the C&O Canal.

Ike For President Dinner Is Planned Here On April 6

He said the date was set yesterday following a telegram from Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, who is securing the speaker for the rally.

Getty said the speaker definitely will be a member of President Eisenhower's cabinet.

The exact time and place of the dinner, which will be held under the sponsorship of the State Central Committee, have not yet been set.

Getty said the committee anticipates an attendance of about 300.

Boy Killed As Tractor Overturns

Hardy County Youth Is Victim

Floyd William Funk Jr., 13, of Inkerman in Hardy County, W. Va., was killed instantly yesterday when a neighbor's tractor which he was driving home got out of control and overturned on him.

State Trooper D. A. Burner of Moorefield, who investigated the crash, said the youngster was walking home from the Luxemburg School along Inkerman Road or Skaggs Run Road located southwest of Kirby.

He came upon Raymond Funkhouser, a neighbor, on whose farm he had worked last summer. Funkhouser and Rodney Hutton, 18, another neighbor, had just used the tractor to dislodge a truck which had stuck in mud in a pasture.

Young Funk offered to drive the tractor back to Funkhouser's home and the man accepted. Funkhouser was driving the truck behind the tractor when suddenly the tractor went into a ditch on the left side of the road.

Attempting to get the tractor back on the dirt road, Funk swung too far to the right and it smashed into a fence and overturned on him, according to Trooper Burner.

The boy was a son of Floyd William and Gladys Funk and had a number of brothers and sisters.

Wright attended Beall High School and enlisted in the Navy at the local recruiting station on September 29, 1955.

Garrett Board Members Must Answer Charges

Complaints Also Must Be Separated

Chief Judge George Henderson ruled yesterday in Garrett County Circuit Court that two members of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners and William Webb DeWitt, county roads engineer, must answer charges placed against them by Irvin Roth, the third county commissioner.

However, Judge Henderson also decided that Roth must file amended bills of complaint separating the charges placed against the two commissioners and those against the roads engineer.

The court action yesterday was a hearing on the demurrer to Roth's petition.

The defendant commissioners are Harvey D. Swartzentruber, board president, and Aubrey C. Breneman, vice president. Breneman is engaged in the drilling and plumbing business in Oakland and Swartzentruber is a merchant.

Roth stated in his complaint filed February 20 in the court in Oakland that the county board owns a rock quarry known as Bishop's Quarry near Sang Run, from which stone for use on county roads is obtained. It is necessary for heavy drilling of holes to shoot the stone with explosives.

The bill of complaint alleges that without Roth's knowledge and without official action or approval and records in the minutes, the defendants entered into a contract with Breneman's firm to drill the holes at $2 per foot. It also charged that DeWitt illegally paid a total of $15,197.81 to the firm in 1955.

Roth also contends that several months after payment had been made to Breneman the vouchers were illegally approved. He said two vouchers were signed by him inadvertently and in ignorance of the law and certain facts in the situation.

In compliance with Judge Henderson's ruling, Horace P. Whitworth Jr. and Horace P. Whitworth Sr., Westernport, Roth's attorneys, will file new bills of complaint early next week. One complaint will charge the two commissioners with illegally doing business with themselves. The other will charge DeWitt with illegally making the payments. The two cases then will be tried separately.

Attorneys for the defendants were Walter W. Dawson and W. Dwight Stover, both of Oakland, and William A. Gunter, this city.

The topic to be discussed will be in the socialization area of human development and will cover the interacting types of factors which constitute personality. Emphasis will be placed on the cultural factor in personality development.

School principals as well as parents are urged to attend the workshop. Each principal has been asked to notify Higgins on or before Friday, March 23, the number of persons from their respective areas who will attend.

Tydings Man Tells Voters To 'Feel Free'

LAPLATA, Md., March 16 (AP)—James C. Mitchell, LaPlata lawyer and head of a Tydings-for-Senate group in Charles County, called on the county's Democrats today to "feel free" to vote as they please.

Mitchell made the statement as Millard E. Tydings brought his Senate primary campaign to this Southern Maryland county, whose Democratic State Central Committee has endorsed George P. Mahoney for the nomination.

Mitchell, son of former Maryland Senate President Walter Mitchell, said in a statement Tydings "is head and shoulders above the other candidates."

"All of you are aware of the fact that four members of the five-man State Central Committee endorsed the candidacy of George P. Mahoney several weeks before Mr. Tydings entered the race, stating that the principal reason for doing so was to head off a primary," said Mitchell.

"But Mr. Tydings has many friends and admirers in Charles County and it will be our purpose to organize that support to best advantage."

Carling Brewery Northern Giant, Governor Told

Hearing On Bill To Ban Firm Held

ANNAPOLIS, March 16 (AP)—Maryland brewers today pictured the Carling Brewing Co. and its parent Canadian firm as a "giant from the North" which would devour local beer interests through unfair competition if permitted to set up shop in this State.

They urged Gov. McKeldin to sign into law Senate Bill 38 enacted recently by the Legislature to keep Carling out of Maryland. It requires that 51 per cent of the stock of any brewery operated in the State be owned by United States citizens.

Carling, a subsidiary of Canadian Breweries Ltd., had earlier announced plans to build a plant in the Halethorpe area near Baltimore.

McKeldin heard opponents of the bill in his Baltimore office on Wednesday and backers of the measure — about 35 of them — here today. Aides said he probably would not act on it before early next week.

John Henry Lewis, attorney for the Associated Brewers Inc., presented the major case for brewing interests today and said if the bill is not signed "the net result may well be a severe economic loss to the State of Maryland."

He said the six Maryland breweries employ 2,500 persons full-time and 1,100 part time. They have annual payrolls of 10 to 12 million dollars, reinvest most of their profits in Maryland and pay the state thousands in taxes.

"There can't be any gain in swapping six good taxpayers for one," Lewis said.

"These (Maryland) brewers are not afraid of competition, but they are afraid of destructive competition which they fear they will face if this bill is approved," he told the governor.

Lewis called Carling part of "a ruthless cartel" which aid building in Maryland "may sell below costs of production just long enough to bring the local brewers to their knees and drive them out of business" before raising prices again.

This, he charged, is the practice the parent firm followed in Canada in reducing competition and quoted from a much-discussed Canadian government report on the firm's operations.

He said although Carling is a Virginia corporation, it is one in "form only," that its officers are Canadians and "it is 98 per cent owned and wholly controlled by Canadian Breweries Ltd."

The parent firm, said Lewis, has a capital and surplus in excess of $0 million dollars and its net earnings before taxes in 1955 were in excess of 20 million.

"This Canadian combine is amply able to subsidize such a policy (of price wars)," he added.

He said it was significant that although Carling "operated at a loss for a number of years" after its incorporation in Virginia it "has had a phenomenal growth" and is now the eighth largest brewery in the United States.

Has Big Backing

"It may now be in a position to finance and subsidize its own competitive invasions. But if it cannot, Canadian Breweries Ltd. stands right behind it," Lewis said.

He said this was demonstrated in 1954 when the parent firm loaned Carling 10 million dollars to buy out a competitor in St. Louis and Belleville, Ill., the Griesedeck Western Brewing Co.

Brewers from Cleveland and Pittsburgh were on hand to tell the governor of their competitive problems and endorse the legislation.

John Friday of the Duquesne Brewing Co. in Pittsburgh said Carling came into that area "with destructive prices" during a 1952 brewery strike and is still competing.

"Last year we sold 10,200,000 cases and made $325,000—three cents a case," he said. "We cannot match Carling on a price basis."

Engineers of the Army also began submitting suggestions for the future protection of the city against devastating flood waters. Today Cumberland already has much flood control protection, with other phases of the project nearing completion.
